

Lebanon Denies Plane Attack Role

Iraq Executes 7 More 'Israel Spies'

BEIRUT (UPI)—Iraq today executed seven men convicted of spying for Israel and put their bodies on public display in Baghdad's Liberation Square, Radio Baghdad reported.

An eighth man convicted on similar charges had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment because he had cooperated with Iraqi authorities in smashing a spy ring, the broadcast said. A ninth man is still at large but faces the same charges.

The executions were carried out in the pre-dawn hours today only hours after an edited version of the trial was broadcast over Baghdad Radio and television. The trial by a three-man revolutionary court took place Feb. 11.

A later announcement by Baghdad Radio said four civilians had been hanged in prison and three Iraqi soldiers had been executed by firing squad.

"The bodies of the traitors now hang in Liberation Square," a commentator said. None of those executed or convicted was a Jew.

It recalled a similar execution Jan. 27 in which the Iraqi regime put the bodies of 14 alleged Israeli spies—nine of them Jews—on display, some of them in the same square.

That display in front of thousands of cheering Iraqis brought worldwide dismay. Iraq's staunchest Arab neighbors either deplored or ignored the act. Iraq snapped at them for non-support.

The prosecution at the Feb. 11 trial presented evidence that the men had been sending reports on Iraqi army posts and installations in Jordan to Israel.

It claimed the men were caught "red-handed" on Dec. 1, in Jordan.

Another Iraqi, arrested with the eight tried and convicted Feb. 11, is accused of being the ringleader of the spy network and will be tried separately.

Meanwhile, according to the Associated Press, Lebanon has denied any part in the latest Arab attack on an Israeli airliner, and Israel and the United States have called for international action to protect commercial planes.

"From the information announced about the operation," Lebanese Premier Rashid Karami said, "there can be no excuse to deduce that any responsibility for it falls on us."

Karami's statement was issued after Israeli Transport Minister Moshe Carmel charged that Lebanon was responsible for the attack Tuesday on an El Al airliner in Zurich in which six persons on the plane were wounded and one guerrilla was killed.

Carmel, speaking to Israel's Parliament Wednesday, cited the publication in Beirut of a statement by the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine claiming responsibility for the Zurich attack. But the statement had been issued earlier in Amman, the Jordanian capital; the Popular Front said the attack was planned in the Jordan River Valley, and Zurich police said the three surviving guerrillas told them they came from Damascus, the Syrian capital.

After another Popular Front attack on an El Al airliner in Athens last December, Israel retaliated within 48 hours with a commando raid on the Beirut airport that destroyed 13 planes of Lebanon's Middle East Airlines. This time the Israelis appeared to be riding the wave of international criticism of the Arab guerrillas and pressing for international action.

Urging the Israelis to follow this course, the United States called for "prompt efforts" to safeguard international civil aviation and said it would raise the subject at a meeting of the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal Monday. The three guerrillas who survived the Zurich attack were under arrest there, and a Swiss raeli security officer who killed the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine said it had a list of more targets for attack outside Israel and implied that presence on the plane indicated El Al might be hit again. It said that armed guards are now riding the airline "is one of the basic military pillars upon which Israel relies in time of war."

Lodge to N. Vietnam: De-Escalation a Must

PARIS (UPI)—The United States called today for a return to the 1954 Geneva agreements which ended the French Indochina War and said there must be a mutual de-escalation of the Vietnam War if there is to be peace.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said the de-escalation was "an absolutely essential first step." And he impatiently rejected once again the Communist demand the Americans pull out of Vietnam, unconditionally, as a first step.

Backed by South Vietnamese chief delegate Pham Dang Lam, Lodge accused the Communists of hampering the progress of the conference by failing to make concrete proposals while insisting on demands they knew were unacceptable.

"The United States believes that the essential elements of the 1954 accords, which we have all said we support as the basis for a future settlement, provide common ground on which to build the structure of peace in Vietnam," Lodge said.

The Geneva agreements were a set of documents which ended the French colonial war in Indochina. The United States, which did not sign them, nevertheless supported their provisions.

Lodge urged the Communist delegates to discuss with the allies such key provisions of the accords as the establishment of a Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) along the 17th parallel, the disengagement of opposing military forces, the cessation of hostilities, the non-intervention by the South and the North in one another's internal affairs and the impartial international policing of the agreements.

On the Communist insistence on a U.S. military pullout Lodge said the Hanoi and Viet Cong negotiators "obviously recognize that the solution of military issues is an absolutely essential first step for the creation of conditions in which the political problems can be resolved."

Lodge said, "your side and our side seem to agree that military issues and particularly the question of withdrawal of military forces are of key importance to an overall settlement.

"The withdrawal of forces, however, like other issues involved in this negotiation is not a subject which should be advanced in terms of unconditional demands. Rather it is a matter for serious discussion leading to agreement on mutual action," Lodge said.

Turning a deaf ear to the allied appeals, Viet Cong delegation chief Tran Buu Kiem and North Vietnamese chief negotiator Xuan Thuy repeated all over again that the Americans must pull out of Vietnam without any condition.

The Communists were expected to reject any plan for restoring the DMZ since that would cut off the main supply of weapons and manpower to their forces in South Vietnam.

However, little progress was expected today at the stalled parley. In the past week both the Allies and the Communists have reiterated their differing positions on the first steps toward negotiating a peace.

The United States and South Vietnam insist that a political solution be the priority item, while the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong demand that all U.S. "aggression" end first.

Lodge said he would explain Washington's stand on the 1954 Geneva agreement as a possible means to peace because the Communists "devoted most of last Thursday's session to an outline of their views on those accords."

Outgoing American deputy negotiator Cyrus R. Vance predicted Wednesday that peace

A Joint Town Effort on the Perrine's Bridge Plans

By JEAN F. DOLAN

PORT EWEN
Land acquisition moves and finishing touches to the Perrine's Bridge restoration were set in motion at a joint meeting of Esopus and Rosendale Town Boards, County Legislators of District 7 and officials of the bridge committee Wednesday night at the Esopus town hall, Port Ewen.

Official opening of the historic span has been set for June 28. In order to meet that date with a finished product it is necessary to complete work on abutments and approaches as well as secure sufficient land for parking and picnicking areas.

At the Wednesday session the District 7 Legislators were authorized to introduce necessary moves for completion of the bridge approaches at the next session of the Ulster County Legislature.

The authentic restoration of the bridge itself was completed late last year under a state and county matching grant which totaled $50,000. The work, which was the culmination of many years of preservation efforts on the part of concerned citizens, was in a nick of time as the 1851 span was in severe disrepair. Restoration of the covered bridge required search for materials and extensive replacement of timbers.

A pledge of help has been received from the Kingston office of Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. The congressman offered assistance in obtaining any federal funds available for historic preservation.

Past efforts of the Perrine's Bridge Committee were detailed at the joint meeting by John Grady of Rifton, president and Elmer Carney of Kingston, vice president.

Grady is currently investigating land acquisitions at the Esopus and Rosendale approaches to the bridge. Cost estimates are being prepared for the construction work yet to be done before the scheduled opening in June.

Future plans for the bridge site must include picnic and parking areas if it is to be utilized as a historic attraction for tourists and county residents alike.

In attendance at the meeting were Supervisor Gerard DeFelice and the entire Rosendale Town Board along with members of the Esopus Town Board; County Legislators Irving P. Maurer and E. Stirling Potter of District 7.

The meeting was chaired by Esopus Supervisor George H. Freer who termed the two-town effort a very cordial and productive session. Further discussion will be carried out at a future meeting in Rosendale.

Legislators are expected to make their presentation to the county legislature at the next meeting on March 13. Serving the district which includes both Rosendale and Esopus are Roger Mabie, legislature minority leader, Maurer and Potter.

In other cooperative efforts, Supervisors Freer and DeFelice last night agreed to meet and study a joint approach to junk car problems in the two townships.

GO OVER PLANS—Perrine's Bridge and plans for its grand opening to the public are discussed at a joint meeting of the Esopus and Rosendale Town Boards with the bridge committee officials. Among those attending the Wednesday night session were (L) County Legislator

A 'Secret' Parley

Ulster Arterial—Late 1972 Start?

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON
City officials, members of the Urban Renewal Agency and representatives of the State Department of Transportation met in the city court room Wednesday night in what amounted to a secret meeting to discuss the proposed Ulster Arterial.

The meeting was called by Alderman Clifford Sinsabaugh

(D.10th Ward), chairman of the Common Council's Urban Renewal Committee. Letters, dated Feb. 13, were sent out to all the aldermen by Sinsabaugh. Notice was not given to the area news media despite the fact that stories concerning the future of the proposed arterial have been prominently featured in the past few weeks.

Today, Sinsabaugh was unavailable for comment.

The Freeman contacted a number of aldermen who attended Wednesday's meeting and learned that M. Nicholas Sinacori, district engineer for the Department of Transportation, was in attendance. Several of the aldermen expressed "surprise" that Sinacori, the state's top transportation official in the area, attended the meeting. Few could remember the last time Sinacori had been in Kingston to discuss transportation problems. It was brought out at the meeting that construction on the proposed arterial may begin as late as 1972.

Efforts have been made to revise that date, downward. Kingston's urban renewal executive director, James G. Connors, told The Freeman today that he would like to see bids for the new road go out within a year.

Connors, who attended the meeting, spoke on the "urgency of getting the highway into construction," and the need for all local officials for a "concerted effort" to "put pressure" on the department of transportation.

"We're going to have to convince Albany that a much higher priority has to be placed on this highway," Connors said. "Without that highway, the urban renewal program doesn't produce tax monies. Subsequently, the whole city suffers."

Connors also pointed out that planning for the Downtown urban renewal project started in 1962. "Seven years have gone by, it's time to get that road built," he said.

Participants in the meeting included every alderman except Emilio P. R. (D-Eighth Ward) and James Madden (D-13th Ward). Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo was invited but could not attend due to ill health. Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan was in the building at the time of the meeting. Albany two weeks ago meeting with Assemblyman H. Clark Bell and Senator Jay P. Rolison Jr. who promised their help on the arterial problem.

Representing the Urban Renewal Agency were Henry Millonig, Eddie Parker, Elmore Yallum and William Mahoney.

Chairman G. Scott Alexander (D-Eighth Ward) was out of town on vacation. Also attending from the city were Corporation Counsel Aaron E. Klein and City Engineer Thomas R. Wickham. A delegation from the Roudout Advisory Board was in the building at the time of the meeting. Albany two weeks ago meeting with Assemblyman H. Clark Bell and Senator Jay P. Rolison Jr. who promised their help on the arterial problem.

PITCHED BATTLES — Police fight demonstrators in pitched battles at the University of California campus Wednesday and at least 24 persons were arrested and one lawman injured. About 20 Alameda County Sheriff's

Life Threat Bared During 'Invasion' of Paltz Class

NEW PALTZ
The Public Relations director at State University College at New Paltz, said today that further investigation of the circumstances has disclosed that the invasion of a classroom by a disruptive group was more than "serious" as described Wednesday.

College spokesman Donald Kent said the abuse and threats made against history professor David Huyler by what appears now to have been a group of non-students is "far more than 'serious'; the action is totally unacceptable from any viewpoint."

Insults, Pushings
"The professor's classroom was apparently invaded; he was cursed obscenely; his students were insulted; he was pushed; his life was threatened. There is no faculty member or administrator at this college that I know of who condones such action in any way, shape or manner."

The College at New Paltz believes in the expansion of freedom to all. This group believes in denying it to those with whom they disagree," the PR director continued.

"Some of the invaders described themselves, according to Professor Huyler, as 'The Pageant Players,' a group reported to be from New York City which was on campus for a performance under the sponsorship of the Students for a Democratic Society, according to the campus student newspaper.

"The Administrations at New Paltz have recognized the need for, even the desirability of, dissent," Kent said.

Under Investigation
"But this right to dissent does not include the right to claim all truth, justice, and knowledge for one side and to deny others their right to express their opinion. The College Campus is the one place where the right to dissent must be upheld—and upheld vigorously—by students, faculty members, and administrators. But with equal vigor, with every ounce of energy, the college must defend the professor in his classroom. His right to speak the truth as he understands it must be inviolate."

Kent said the incident along with other disruptions the same day were being investigated further but he did not know what action might be taken.

ASKS SHAW MISTRIAL—Chief Prosecutor in the Clay Shaw trial, James Alcock (L) called for a mistrial Wednesday after Judge Edward Haggerty (R) told the court, while the jurors were out, he did not believe the testimony of one witness. The judge said a policeman who took Shaw's fingerprints two years ago violated his civil rights if he asked Shaw about an alias (Clay Bertrand). Said Judge Haggerty "I do not believe Officer Habighorst." (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Administration to Ease Hunger Situations in Two Dixie Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, under prodding by senators investigating hunger in the nation has acted to relieve the severe malnutrition afflicting two rural Southern counties.

Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin agreed to make free food available to the two South Carolina counties by providing food stamps to eligible citizens at no cost.

Hardin agreed to allow the free stamps, subject to state and local approval, in a meeting Wednesday with Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., chairman of the Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, and Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C. McGovern, who originally urged the administration to send surplus food directly to Beaufort and Jasper counties, said the stamp plan "will be a pilot program that will give us some operating experience" in meeting hunger problems.

"I think this is a healthy way to do it," McGovern told a reporter, adding "I think it was a real breakthrough."

Hollings, who Tuesday said federal red tape was standing in the way of feeding the hungry in his state, also indicated he was satisfied with the quick action. It was understood the federal government would pick up the cost of the stamps, which usually cost the recipient a small charge.

Testimony before the committee this week indicated a substantial malnutrition problem in South Carolina, complicated by widespread disease including substantial infestation of intestinal worms, especially in Negro children.

Before Hardin agreed to provide the free stamps, McGovern said "there is not the slightest doubt in my mind that the government has the authority" to provide the emergency food shipments.

The South Dakota Democrat called for the emergency help after the head of a medical team from the University of South Carolina, Dr. John Lease, said that immediate food shipments would be helpful even though it would take much longer to educate the people on proper health practices.

"For the complete eradication of these practices," Lease said, "it's going to take 10 years. But the food should go down there in 10 days."

Both Lease and James T. Carter of Vanderbilt University and Meharry Medical College, who headed a second study in the area, reported that caloric and vitamin intake of children were far below normal.

"In Beaufort and Jasper counties, S.C., I saw clinically very much what we saw in Mississippi in 1967 and very much what I regret to say I have seen countless times in 10 years of work in the South, in Appalachia, among migrant farmers and in the ghettos of our cities," said Dr. Robert Coles, a Harvard University psychiatrist and physician who has long urged stepped up federal action.

Check Charge

Willie London, 20, of New Paltz, was arrested Wednesday by Highland State Trooper C. J. Bebensee on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check. He pleaded innocent before Town Justice Rexford Schneider, who adjourned hearing and ordered the defendant committed to the county jail in lieu of $50 bail.

Shaw Trial

Court Asked to Overrule the Bar

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The prosecution in the Clay L. Shaw trial asked the Louisiana Supreme Court today to overrule Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. who barred state evidence that Shaw gave the alias "Clay Bertrand" when arrested two years ago.

The big, white-haired defendant himself was called to the witness chair—the jury had been removed from the courtroom — to rebut the alias testimony.

In a series of crisp answers, he denied he had been asked any questions and said he had signed a blank card in the fingerprint room.

When Haggerty, during his ruling, said he doubted "very much" that the fingerprinting policeman, Aloysius J. Habighorst, was telling the truth, there was an eruption of heated reaction.

James L. Alcock, the 35-year-old diminutive assistant district attorney who is the state's chief courtroom operative, shouted in a mistrial. The surprised judge quickly denied it.

When Alcock said he wanted a Supreme Court writ that would in effect reverse the judge, Haggerty told him to find a justice overnight by phone and apply for an oral directive. He added: "This case will proceed at 9 a.m. unless I am directed by the Supreme Court not to."

The state contends Shaw used the alias Clay or Clem Bertrand in conspiring in September, 1963, with Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie to murder President John F. Kennedy. It produced a former FBI man who testified he searched in vain here right after the Kennedy assassination for a Clay Bertrand.

Wednesday, a former airline VIP room hostess testified she had watched Shaw sign a guest register "Clay Bertrand" on Dec. 14, 1966. The Kennedy note, since it was past the murder was on Nov. 22, 1963.

The Supreme Court could halt the trial while its seven judges held a hearing on Haggerty's ruling. The trial judge, after hearing testimony by several men, two of Shaw's attorneys, and the 20-minute Shaw testimony, said he found no fault with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's office — "their skirts are clean."

The judge called in the jury and told them he had ruled that a document and oral "inculcated" remarks could not be introduced and that the state was taking it to the Supreme Court. He adjourned on that Dec. 14, 1966. The Kennedy note, since it was past the murder was on Nov. 22, 1963.

Use Midland Charge Plan

BERLIN (UPI)—The Communists are unlikely to directly interfere with President Nixon's visit to West Berlin next week, western officials said today. But they said East Germany probably would continue to harass the West's overland access routes to the isolated city by delaying traffic along the 110-mile highway through East Germany.

West German President Heinrich Lübke was flying to West Berlin today aboard a U.S. military plane for what was described as a routine visit. Lübke was taking an American plane into the city because West German aircraft are prohibited from using the three air corridors the Allies maintain into West Berlin.

The East German Foreign Ministry charged Lübke was creating a "provocation" and warned that his government's "annexation policy" toward West Berlin would have "unavoidable consequences."

The Communists contend that West Germany's choice of West Berlin as the site for the election of the country's president March 5 is illegal because the city is not part of West Germany.

President Nixon's visit to West Berlin next Thursday for four hours was considered by Western political observers as a direct show of support for the Western outpost in Communist land.

Gotham Has 6th Transplant

NEW YORK (UPI)—A team of surgeons at New York Hospital transplanted a heart into the chest of an unidentified 36-year-old man early today.

The operation, performed under the direction of Dr. C. Walton Lillehei, took 53 minutes. The hospital said the patient was "doing very well."

It was New York's sixth heart transplant, and the 115th such operation. There are 39 recipients alive. The operation began shortly after midnight and ended at 1 a.m. hospital spokesmen said. The donor was not identified.

Citizens Survey Councils

Strive for Saving Ways

By JEAN F. DOLAN

KINGSTON

Taxes are up and the battery's down and the fund drives go on and on in endless procession from door-to-door.

Money talks and its message gets more and more burdensome.

Somebody is trying to do something about this endless wallet tap, several somebodies, as a matter of fact, who have

Special

The general long range welfare of Ulster County in sharp view. Ulster is considered one of the fastest growing counties in the state. As such, it must face up to the expanding needs in the areas of health services, family welfare and character building services.

In is no coincidence that there are three such councils now in active operation as an aftermath of the Ulster County Citizens Survey instituted three years ago by the Ulster County Community Chest. The survey made numerous recommendations to coordinate and consolidate the services of the chest without the necessary duplication by member agencies.

From there the concept grew to encompass far more than the 13-1 agencies of that time.

Duplication Revealed

After the formation of the local councils, further in-depth study revealed much duplication and additional expense of separate operations supplying the same services were in evidence in public and private agencies including government.

Whipped by the enthusiasm and concern of such leaders as Clifford A. Henze and Dr. Herbert Derman volunteer members of the three councils chosen for their intimate concern and knowledge of the individual areas of study proceeded to act as independent problems. As the delving continued, a certain pattern of chaos and need for coordination emerged firing the imagination of the various committee members. Lengthy, breakfast sessions, luncheon confabs and just plain meetings started to jell.

Soon it was evident something had to be done and done quickly to save Ulster County from a morass of individual campaigns and activities which would bleed the coffers white and still not achieve the ultimate goal of the very best for the very most while preserving the concept of progress.

Various Forms of Action

Action of the various councils, of necessity has taken various forms. The seemingly diverse concerns of each individual council has led them down different paths — only to arrive at much the same conclusion. Duplication must be eliminated and coordination is the keynote to success and even survival.

One of the direct results of council activity took place yesterday at Benedictine Hospital when members of the health services council heard proposals of national consulting firms prepared to give an outside look at local problems in the health services field. Selection of a survey team will be made at a meeting of the council Feb. 27 and the result may be the greatest boon to Ulster County's health picture in a century.

The health services group has already made progress in coordination through dialogue, implementation of the county blood bank and pooling of health services including medical library and possibly computer services center. Members are prepared to provide training sessions in specialized fields and meet just about any other medical or health problem they are called upon to meet. All of their activity has stemmed from member agencies who have analyzed the need and established priorities.

One of the outstanding working arrangements has been in the development of vital curriculum for area college students and in service training programs for medical personnel. Under the direction of Professor Richard Glazer of Ulster County Community College, chairman of the Health Services Council, qualified medical advisors have met with the USC group to work out the needs and best methods of implementing the training in these areas.

Addition to Chest

Family service council with Dr. Edward Shea at the helm has had the triumph of helping with the addition of another agency to the Chest. The 14-1 slogan used this year for the Community Chest drive was due to the addition of the Family Counseling Service, working out of the Children's Home but offering community service to those with family problems of all kinds.

Many times the councils have been faced with problems which under study produced strange results. What existed as problem with a capital P ended up as non-existent by the very presence of the council as a sounding-board. Exploration by the councils dissolved the situation before it became a real bug-a-boo, which is a saving service in itself.

And what happens now is pretty much up to the people of Ulster County for it is their welfare which is at stake. The councils, the USC, the talk sessions are all for naught if the county does not realize the importance of voice in the wilderness which must be joined by the vox pop.

Narcotics Council Head Shows Much Concern

By DENNIS R. CARO

ELLENVILLE — Youtha Franklin, the chairman of the newly formed Wawarsing Narcotics Council, is a refreshing and animated conversationalist, but not particularly the easiest person to interview.

"Don't put that in the paper," she would say now and again, "it sounds too Pollyannish." Or "Don't use that, it's not a teacher word."

Surprised to have been named to the council initially, she is still somewhat awed that she has been selected as its head but nonetheless determined to do a good job.

She was picked because she is still young enough to remember the problems of youth and yet mature enough to have taken an important role in society. And perhaps she was also picked because she gives the program a link to Ellenville's black community — a link it is going to need if it is going to accomplish anything at all.

And she is concerned, which is perhaps most important of all.

"They're starting program snow," she said, "that should have been well underway by this time. If they had first started their investigations when drug use was only a problem in the slums I don't think we would have the trouble with it that we do today."

"They act like it just came to town yesterday. But it's so old."

"Now, of course, kids have access to money and it's getting to the intellectual-type child. It's getting into the middle class environment and I guess this is when it starts to really hit home."

A Kindergarten teacher in the Ellenville school system ("I like that age, they're very young and fresh — you're not going to put all this in the paper, are you?") Miss Franklin graduated from State University College, New Paltz last August and has spent summers working with delinquent girls at the Wynantskill Training School and emotionally disturbed boys at Middletown State Hospital.

"I'm young (but not that young)" she went on, "or at least young enough to remember going through the period that these kids are going through now."

"The problem with narcotics in this area is that these are high school kids using the drugs and they're not equipped for it."

"High school is a terrible time, really. It's when you think you have all the answers. It's a very formative time, but the mind isn't working too well."

"You learn by observing and I think there is something artificial about the whole thing."

"When I was in school (Ellenville High), the thing was smoking regular cigarettes. I remember sneaking behind the house to smoke so my mother wouldn't see me and then catching poison ivy."

"But this is so much more serious. I can't really state a position on what we're going to do without first having a meeting, but I can tell you what we're not going to do."

"We're not going to be vigilantes. We're not going to be going around wearing pretend badges and putting people in jail."

"I think we can serve to inform people and we are certainly going to be willing to listen when somebody comes to us with a problem."

The narcotics council has its first meeting tonight, at 7:30 tonight in the Town Hall. Robert Dolins, assistant commissioner for narcotic education in the state's narcotic addiction control commission is expected to attend.

Heavy Snow Warnings Out For Colorado, New Mexico

By United Press International

Heavy snow warnings were up today in the mountains of Colorado and New Mexico and travelers warnings extended into Nebraska as a huge storm system crosses the Rocky Mountains heading East.

Two-to-three-inch snowfalls were common from Wyoming to Nebraska and New Mexico during a six-hour period extending into today.

One-to-two-inch falls were reported during the same period in a separate storm stretching from Pennsylvania through New York to New England.

Eight states were included in the U.S. Weather Bureau's travelers warnings, including Wyoming, Nebraska, New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle and the states in between.

The system was expected to move eastward today, racing across the Plains and into the Mississippi Valley today.

Allentown, Pa., residents awoke to a two-inch mantle of snow today as an Atlantic storm made its presence felt. Hazardous warnings were in effect for the greater New York area as the storm extended from

Rolison Bill Ready for Action

ALBANY

Sen. Jay P. Rolison Jr. said today that his bill requiring mandatory jail sentences for those convicted of a crime wherein a weapon is used has been reported out of the Senate committee on codes for floor action in the near future.

Sen. Rolison said, "This bill, co-sponsored by Sen. Edward J. Speno and myself, is designed to attack the problem of those criminals who would use weapons in the commission of a crime. We believe it meets the problem of weapons without the onerous burden of registration of the past campaign. I strongly urged this approach and am very pleased that our bill is moving forward."

Nixon's Trip: A Break With Tradition

AFTER PLAY—With a big smile, Jacqueline Onassis gets into a car after seeing a matinee of the play, "The Great White Hope," on Broadway Wednesday. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In a dramatic break with tradition, President Nixon plans to meet next week with the ordinary men and women of Britain, Germany, Italy and France as well as royalty, presidents, prime ministers and chancellors.

Disclosing this Wednesday night, authoritative sources said that the President "is concerned" that his 40 to 50 hours of discussions with the heads of states and governments by their very nature "might be less than fully dimensional."

He plans, therefore, to meet with writers, commentators, critics, businessmen, trade union leaders, students and others at closed tea and coffee sessions in London, Bonn, Rome and Paris.

He has instructed the U.S. Embassies in these capitals to send out invitations to between 10 and 15 people who will represent a fair cross-section of their countrymen, the sources said.

Crowded Schedule

The only capital in which Nixon will not have these "citizen chats" is Brussels, apparently because of the crowded nature of his schedule there.

Significantly, the one major public speech planned by the President is in the giant Siemens factory in West Berlin where thousands of Siemens employees are expected to hear him.

There will be other public statements and speeches, of course, principally upon his arrival at airports where protocol calls for replies to official welcomes by his hosts.

Private talks will be a feature of Nixon's get-acquainted visits with Europe's leaders. In the non-English speaking countries, only interpreters will be present. Staff members, and others in the President's official party, of some 20 or so, will stand by until called in to join in the discussions which will also be attended by their opposite numbers.

Tentative Schedule

Here is a tentative schedule for the trip that starts Sunday: Sunday: Arrive Brussels Airport early afternoon and is met by King Baudouin and representatives of Belgium government, NATO and the European Economic Community. Visit with officials at Palais Royale de Brussels. Overnight Brussels Hilton Hotel.

Monday: Visits NATO headquarters and the Belgium Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and meets privately with King Baudouin. Departs for London in late afternoon. He will go immediately to Chequers for private conversations with Prime Minister Harold Wilson on arrival in London. Overnight at Claridge's Hotel.

Tuesday: Meets with British political leaders, both Conservative and Liberal, lunch with Queen Elizabeth, talks with Wilson at No. 10 Downing Street, visits Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, Tomb of the British Unknown Warrior, the American Embassy and former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Dinner at No. 10 Downing.

Wednesday: More talks with Wilson. Flies to Bonn in early morning for meetings with President Heinrich Lübke, Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and Foreign Minister Willy Brandt.

Reviews Troops

Thursday: Departs early for West Berlin where he will review U.S. troops, visit the memorial to the American airlift, view the wall dividing the East and West Berlin from the Moritzplatz, meet with Mayor Klaus Schütz, address about 6,000 factory workers at the Siemens factory. Departs after about four hours for Rome. Visits President Giuseppe Saragat and Premier Mariano Rumor. Attends dinner hosted by Saragat at Quirinale Palace.

Friday: Holds more conferences with Rumor before departing for Paris about noon. In Paris, he will be greeted by motorcades to an apartment in the Quai d'Orsay where he will stay during his two-day visit. He will visit the Arc de Triomphe, and attend black-tie dinner with De Gaulle at Elysee Palace.

Saturday: Holds more talks with De Gaulle at Trianon, visits American Embassy and hosts dinner for De Gaulle at the Embassy.

Sunday: The morning has been reserved for meetings with the U.S. negotiating team at the Vietnam peace talks. Aides said there was a possibility that Nixon would meet with representatives from South Vietnam sitting at the talks. Departs Sunday afternoon en route to Vatican where he is scheduled to meet for an hour with Pope Paul VI. Departs late afternoon for Washington.

Tax Proposals Might Impede Ford Foundation Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the gigantic Ford Foundation said today proposals to restrict the stock holdings of foundations might impede several social action programs his institution is considering.

McGeorge Bundy also said the proposal to limit foundation holdings to no more than 20 percent of the stock of any one company would have prevented establishment of the Ford Foundation and several others.

His remarks came in prepared testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee, which is studying the tax-exempt position of foundations as part of a general review of the federal tax code.

If the limit were imposed now, Bundy said, programs now under consideration by Ford to stimulate business in ghettos, provide jobs in the South and assist construction of integrated housing might be impeded. Before heading the Ford Foundation, Bundy was a special assistant to President Johnson.

However, Bundy told the committee, the Ford Foundation, which is worth $3.5 billion, hopes as a matter of "prudent investment policy" to reduce its holdings of Ford Motor Co. stock to less than 20 percent of the firm's total stock by 1971.

The foundation was started with a gift of 90 percent of the auto company's stock.

"We don't own more than 20 percent," he said, but "this has nothing to do with control" of the firm since it is in nonvoting stock.

Bundy testified, however, Bundy did endorse a proposal to require family foundations to give up majority control of governing boards after 25 years.

This contrasted with the stand taken Wednesday by officials of the Rockefeller Foundation and the Rockefeller Brothers Foundation.

The committee, studying foundations as the first stage of its tax review, scheduled Bundy following criticism of the Ford Foundation.

Rep. Wright Patman, long-time investigator of foundations, asked whether the Ford Foundation was getting into politics when it financed voter registration efforts in Cleveland before the election of Mayor Carl B. Stokes.

Patman also cited Ford travel and study grants to eight former aides of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Bell Appointed To Committees

ALBANY

Assemblyman H. Clark Bell has been named to two Assembly sub-committees according to announcement made by Assemblyman Edward F. Crawford, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee.

Bell will serve on the Surrogates Court Procedure Act and Decedent Estate Law sub-committee and the subcommittee on Civil Practice Law and Rules.

Shultz - - Can Curb Inflation Without Employment Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz said today there is "substantial evidence" that inflation can be curbed without marked increase in unemployment.

Shultz told the joint House-Senate Economic Committee that foremost among the factors supporting this belief is the administration's aim to work gradually—not abruptly—to reduce inflation.

"Our aim is not to achieve a zero price rise this year," he said in prepared testimony. "This could not occur short of a sizeable recession."

Shultz said the other two factors are a growing proportion of workers now employed in industries not affected by seasonal or other periodic layoffs and an increasing variety of manpower programs.

The labor secretary added, however, that there is a need for focusing manpower programs on Negro youth which he said have the most serious employment problems over the past decade.

Shultz was the first high administration official to appear before the committee not strictly ly finance oriented. The committee opened hearings Monday on economic issues facing the nation.

After eight witnesses ranging from members of the Council of Economic Advisers to Treasury Secretary David Kennedy, Democratic committee members were showing irritation at what they consider vague tentative and sometimes unresponsive answers from high Nixon administration officials on policy questions.

The vice chairman, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Wednesday after hearing cautious testimony from Kennedy: "I am disappointed that officials of this administration have taken President Nixon's inaugural warnings so literally. He advised the people to lower their voices."

"Your answers are so low, in terms of substance, that we can hardly hear them," Kennedy had declined—on grounds that the problems needed more study—to say whether he thought there could be deep spending cuts, he favored curbs on one-bank holding companies, or favored repeal of the 7 percent investment credit.

The Treasury chief also said the administration "has reached no final decision" on extending the 10 percent surtax beyond its scheduled June 30 expiration date. This undercut the Tuesday testimony of Budget Director Robert P. Mayo, most forthright of the administration witnesses to date.

Mayo said: "Our administration's current position is to support the proposed extension of the surcharge."

Empire Staters Endorse Ban on Cigarette Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seven Empire State congressmen were among 18 house members who sent a letter to the Federal Communications Commission supporting its proposed ban on cigarette advertising.

The FCC move ran into opposition from the 11-member North Carolina House delegation, however, which acted to renew the present cigarette labeling act which expires June 30. The act prohibits the FCC from imposing changes in cigarette advertising.

The 18 cited the courage of the FCC, and said the country is irresponsible to allow the "media encourage the public to keep on smoking and to seduce the young into taking up the habit."

Included in the 18 were Congressmen Edward Koch, Bert Ramo, Seymour Halpern, James Scheuer, Daniel Button, Richard D. McCarthy and William F. Ryan.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading congressional antipoverty warrior has attacked President Nixon's plan to remove two key agencies from the Office of Economic Opportunity. But despite the harsh words, the administration's program appears in no danger.

Chairman Carl D. Perkins of the House Education and Labor Committee said the administration plan to abolish OEO's showed "Head Start and Job Corps programs to other agencies was a 'tragic mistake.'"

Another House source said that by taking away OEO's most dramatic and appealing per cent of the government's over-all poverty attack.

"We need some kind of new job creation program, fitted into a comprehensive manpower policy," Nelson said in a favorable reaction to Nixon's plan.

The Wisconsin senator is the new chairman of the Senate subcommittee on employment, dissenters besides Perkins.

Some Democrats said they felt it marked a considerable retreat from GOP statements in the 1968 campaign that OEO should be downgraded or abolished.

It would be possible for the Congress to reverse Nixon's order delegating Head Start and Job Corps to the Health, Educa-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was handed the double task today of urging prompt ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty while defending the administration's apparent intention to press ahead with atomic missile defenses.

Ostensibly, Laird and Gen. Earle C. Wheeler, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff were called before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to present the administration case for approval of the treaty.

But it was clear from questioning of Secretary of State William P. Rogers Tuesday that critics of the Sentinel missile defense system consider the hearings a forum to advance their cause.

The critics of the Sentinel, which would use nuclear-armed missiles to destroy incoming enemy missiles, argue its deployment would conflict with the treaty's provision for negotiations on nuclear disarmament.

They cited Article VI of the nonproliferation treaty, which calls for negotiations leading eventually to general disarmament.

The critics argue the administration should at least try to enter into negotiations with the Soviet Union on missile disarmament before proceeding with the ABM.

Rogers rejected that view Tuesday.

Laird has suspended deployment of the Sentinel system and ordered a Pentagon study of the program in the face of increasing congressional criticism and citizen protests.

But there have been indications work will be resumed, probably on sites away from population centers.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said in a Senate speech Wednesday the Pentagon review was not the kind he had hoped for and he had commissioned his own.

Wider Poverty Fight

The fight on poverty will be widened despite a possible decision to let the Office of Economic Opportunity go out of existence June 30, when it is due to expire unless Congress gives it a new lease on life. The Nixon Administration does not plan to ask for an extension, but does not flatly rule it out. It plans to disperse the OEO programs among established departments, where they can be built up into even greater effectiveness.

Briefly, that is the prospect held out for the poor by the two Cabinet heads who would probably inherit most of the programs—Robert Finch, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and George Romney, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. They are on the new Urban Affairs Council, with Finch heading the anti-poverty subcommittee.

"We are going to have a greater antipoverty program in this Administration than one just represented by OEO," Romney said. "The effort is going to be more effective and widespread."

The White House assistant on Urban Affairs, Daniel P. Moynihan, added an observation that showed how anti-poverty may be treated. He said America's urban ills are primarily economic, not racial. He denounced as a social outrage the fact that Negro teenagers in this country have an unemployment rate of 30 per cent. That can account for much of the disturbance blamed on race.

On programs designed to aid minority groups—and Negroes are the largest such group—Finch said the Nation has been "over-promising and under-delivering" for too long. The 30 per cent unemployment rate of Negro teenagers is glaring proof.

From all this, it looks as though the new Urban Affairs Council has already pin pointed the major cause of poverty in the country and is moving to meet it. They can't promise overnight jobs to teenagers and to other hard-core unemployed. But they can and they do promise to find way to get them. That is progress for the second week in office.

Planned Communities

Ours is not a planned society. Private enterprise is too deeply embedded for planning to be tolerated. Yet the advantages of planning in new communities, where experiments in new urban towns are being tried from the ground up, are worth the broadest attention because they are able to remove such obstacles to housing innovations as complex building codes and housing ordinances that have pushed the price of housing beyond the reach of many new home buyers.

The most widely publicized planned community is Reston, Va., outside Washington, D. C. It is being built by a Gulf Oil subsidiary. A new planned community has just been authorized in New Stanton, Pa., where the Chrysler corporation will build a plant that will require 4,500 workers and attendant services. The New York Times architectural critic warns: "What has been accomplished in Reston has been done in a society hostile to planning and public development, ignorant of urban design, unsympathetic to architectural quality, suspicious of housing innovation as an investment, long on words and short on funds."

Communities like Reston and New Stanton can go a long way toward breaking down such public suspicion and educating the public to these lacks. Before the public will accept restrictions on the use of property that planning imposes, it must see and learn to appreciate its advantages.

"Why Don't You Get Rid of That Tramp?"

David Lawrence Says

Nixon Wants Agnew to Be An Assistant President

WASHINGTON — An amendment to the Constitution may be found necessary if Vice President Agnew is to assume some of the functions of administrative supervision which have already been delegated to him by President Nixon.

For the Constitution specifies merely that the vice president shall be "President of the Senate" and that, in the case of a tie, he may cast a deciding vote. It is plain that he is considered to be a member of Congress rather than an official in the executive branch of the government.

President Nixon, in his statement accompanying an "executive order establishing an office of intergovernmental relations," stipulates that these operations will be "under the immediate supervision of the vice president."

Mr. Nixon says, moreover, that in addition to his other duties, the vice president is to "undertake responsibility for helping to administer the domestic functions of government in several critical areas."

A reading of the Constitution, however, reveals that the delegation of such authority to a vice president is nowhere provided for, or even implied, in any part of the Constitution.

Up to the time of the Truman administration, the vice president — outside of his duties as presiding officer of the Senate — confined himself largely to the making of addresses on ceremonial occasions as a representative of the president.

Mr. Nixon acquired a good deal of familiarity with the operations of the executive branch of the government in the course of his eight years as vice president under President Eisenhower. Doubtless this is one of the reasons why President Nixon is anxious to give vice president Agnew opportunities to serve virtually as an assistant president. But there is always a chance that, under Mr. Nixon's new executive order, an action taken by the vice president will be questioned in the courts by businesses or individuals who may feel they have been affected adversely by rules or regulations issued by any government official at the direction of the vice president.

Unquestionably the idea of training the vice president in the duties of the presidency is a sensible one. There would be no objection to the adoption of a more detailed provision of the constitution enabling the vice president to perform certain acts and duties in behalf of the chief executive at any time, and not just during an emergency due to a president's disability. The vagueness of the Constitution on the subject of filling vacancies in the office or President was cleared up by the 1967 amendment, but there are some areas in which the powers of the vice president require further definition. Public opinion undoubtedly would support an amendment to the constitution authorizing the president to turn over at his discretion certain responsibilities to the vice president, even though official acts would still require presidential approval.

But under the Provisions of the Constitution, the vice president himself cannot become an integral part of the executive branch of the government while the president is able to exercise the powers of his office. During the illness of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon presided over some cabinet meetings, but he did not sign any legislation or issue any executive orders.

Mr. Nixon acquired a good

Doubtless this is one of the reasons why President Nixon is anxious to give vice president Agnew opportunities to serve virtually as an assistant president. Walter Winchell...

Two names, three dots. Behold the man. A pair of pointed black shoes flashing in rhythm. A pinch-waist suit with one button. A face of mottled margarine. The mouth, small and loud, pouched cheeks, searchlight blue eyes, a gray fedora hat with a snap brim: a size 7 1/2 brain spinning like a gyroscope, emitting news beats, shocking information, gossip, innuendo and advice to the governments of the world.

WW. We go back to 1929. It comes to one light year. Me, cub reporter at $25 per. He, bit columnist $1,000 a week. All reporters are created equal, but some are more equal than others. Our common interests were Broadway, Murder, Inc., the Lindbergh Kidnapping, Mayor Jimmy Walker, the nightclubs running from Harlem to Greenwich Village.

Winchell worked all night and didn't drink. He was the originator of his style of pepper. He gave the people what they wanted — the low-down, the inside. He was clever, cute and callous. WW could make and break men. He thought mercy was French for "thank you."

A week or so ago he said he was hanging up the gloves. His son, an itinerant artist, had committed suicide. In the old days, it might have been an item for the column. Put WW is coming up on the 72nd furlong of his race and the heart pounds, the eyes weep for the darkness which lies ahead.

Once he did a radio program. He was rich and famous and, at the stroke of nine p.m. on Sunday night, the United States tuned in to hear that nasal tone snap: "Good evening, Mr. and Mrs. America, and all the ships at sea, let's go to press..."

If he ran short of material, he mentioned "Oddities in the News," which I dug up for him. If he used any of them, he paid me $5 apiece. If his own material lasted the full 15 minutes, I got nothing. It was an honest deal. Sometimes, I tried to borrow $5 or $10 on next week's broadcast, but he always sent Ruth Cambridge, his beautiful secretary, to the editorial floor where I worked and she would say: "Walter says — about that loan — nothing doing."

WW had a wife named June, but I never saw her. Often, I wondered if he did because from the moment this kaleidoscopic brain decided to expose the world to itself, the two columns on the left side of page ten became his love. His whole love and nothing but love. Men threatened to kill him, so he carried a gun.

No one ignored Walter Winchell. What he wrote, they ate. City editors became accustomed to marking the Monday morning items and sending reporters out to get the story Winchell had handed them. He had friends — Mark Hellinger, Sherman Billingsley, Irving Hoffman — there must be others.

He coiled and shook his rattles at Adolf Hitler when most editors thought the Nazi was an Austrian comic. WW wrote the best Jewish dialect jokes until, one day, he decided that it was anti-Semitic and he ordered everyone to stop writing them.

He was never winsome, nor winning. He was the snitch hated by every kid on the block. But they were afraid of him, so they conformed. Sometimes, he tossed a contributor a plug. My turn came: "That kid can describe without wasting words..." Sometimes, he was dangerously ahead of the story. One evening he wrote that the Big Boys had a contract out on Mad Dog Vincent Coll. Coll was standing in a phone booth when two gunmen, leaning against a soda fountain, sawed the booth and Coll in half with a machine gun. The newspaper had been on the streets only two hours.

The Grand Jury convened and demanded to know WW's source of information. He refused to tell. It may be the only time he didn't squeal. He was truly a phenomenon in journalism — one of a kind. He liked to call himself Little Boy Peep. His monumental ego supplied the nuclear power to keep him going this long. Ironically, he has been finally brought down by a son who took a short cut.

I knew this man well. He is a name, like this: Walter Winchell...

Drew Pearson Says Peruvian Showdown Is Worse Than a Gunboat Incident

Pearson and KKK

On Nov. 26, 1959, Drew Pearson revealed that Robert Shelton, Imperial Wizard of the United Klans of America, had been instrumental in the election of John Patterson as governor of Alabama and that Shelton was rewarded with the agency of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company for Alabama.

Pearson gave other details in succeeding columns regarding Shelton's activities in Alabama.

On Feb. 14, 1969, Shelton was given a one-year sentence for contempt of Congress.

WASHINGTON — The U.S. ambassador to Peru, J. Wesley Jones, who has been cooling his heels in Washington for over a week trying to warn the Nixon administration of a dangerous showdown in Peru, finally got in to see President Nixon and Secretary of State William P. Rogers last week. But he got in solely because a Peruvian gunboat seized one and fired on a second American fishing boat.

The overall Peruvian crisis, however, is much more important than a gunboat incident. The new President inherited these problems, but they are embarrassing to him, first because he was nearly killed during a Venezuelan riot in 1958 yet is personally hopeful of improving Pan American relations; second, because he is leaving in less than a week for another part of the world — Europe.

Here are the latest developments:

1. U. S. Ambassador Sol Linowitz, the ablest envoy to represent this country at the OAS, is leaving next month. He offered to remain to help out in the crisis but his offer was ignored.

2. At this writing the White House still has not found an Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American Affairs. Other top jobs at the State Department have been filled, but this crucial post remains vacant.

3. Brazil, another military dictatorship, has called a conference of Latin American states — excluding the United States — to be held in Chile in April to line up a common front against alleged North American economic aggression.

Reasons for the conference are not spelled out this bluntly. But the real fact is that the two military dictatorships of Peru and Brazil are working together to rule the United States in the role of the domineering Colossus of the North. The Brazilian-inspired conference would take place immediately after April 9, the deadline when the Hickenlooper amendment goes into effect six months after Peruvian seizure of the International Petroleum Company, owned by Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Eleven Billion at Stake

Under the Hickenlooper amendment — introduced by the former GOP Senator from Nebraska — any country which seizes American property loses all U.S. aid and its U. S. sugar quota. The latter is extremely valuable to Peru, amounting to seven cents a pound against a world price of two cents, or about $59 million a year. Aid totaled $37 million last year.

4. At stake at the anti-American economic conference called by Brazil will be half a billion dollars of American investments in Peru plus a total of $11 billion investments in all of Latin America. Any concerted American drive, such as planned by the two military dictatorships, could seriously jeopardize them.

5. Peru has rushed to resume diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union after a diplomatic freeze of 50 years, and a Soviet trade mission hastily arrived in Lima last week and signed an agreement for Russian aid.

Ironically, it was the Peruvian military who in the past have broken up democratically-elected governments on the excuse that they might lead Peru down the path to communism. This also has been the excuse used by the U.S. Defense Department for sending destroyers and arms, and selling submarines to Peru.

As former Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, once put it: "They may be militarists but they're against communism." Based on this assumption, the United States government has either played footsie or deliberately aided dictatorship after dictatorship in Peru at the same time that the Peruvian military was sabotaging U.S. policy.

Using U. S. Tanks

Dating back to the Truman administration in 1948, Gen. Manuel Odría forced out duly elected President Luis Bustamante and became dictator, following which the United States continued to send Peru arms. Among other things, it let Peru buy submarines from General Dynamics, as a result of which Peru now has one of the biggest undersea fleets in South America. It also gave Peru old American gunboats and destroyers; and some Navy men suspected that it was probably a former U.S. gunboat that fired on the American fishing vessels last week.

In 1962, the Peruvian military, using Sherman tanks and commanded by officers trained at Ft. Leavenworth, crashed the presidential palace of President Prado and took over. President Kennedy at first broke off diplomatic relations and cut off $22 million in housing aid and the unspent balance of $53 million for agrarian reform.

Later in 1962, Ambassador James Loeb, who demanded the cut-off, was transferred, the dictatorship was recognized and aid resumed.

But a few weeks later, when the United States faced a showdown with Russia over missiles in Cuba, Peru was one of the few Latin countries which refused us its support. Subsequently, the Peruvian military refused to back our boycott of Fidel Castro, opposed an inter-American peace-keeping force which we proposed for the Dominican Republic, and voted for Red China's admission into the U.N.

And when President Fernando Belaunde negotiated a fair take-over of Standard Oil's Peruvian property, to be paid for in long-term installments, the military kicked out Belaunde and trumped up the phony charge that Standard Oil owed Peru $974 million.

A Zest to Destroy, Not Build

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The irony in the present small-scale revolt of some students is that they are often taken seriously, even bowed to, even as they demonstrate their immaturity and the fealty of their grasp of the world they live in.

If they are right and in the wisdom of their short years are already equipped to decide who should teach, what should be taught, and to what extent they should not study at all but join in outside causes, then George Kennan's question to them applies:

"What in the hell — if we might be so bold as to ask — are you doing on a university campus?"

Operating from their self-conceived monopoly on wisdom, they portray the universities as vast, evil empires deliberately contrived to crush their individuality and presided over by a bunch of fiddling Neros who, while the world burns, stupidly interpose the school's irrelevant massiveness between students and the real world.

America's colleges have their serious faults, as do many other major elements in this society. It would be strange, even unfortunate, if the youth of today did not follow the age-old habit of the young and cry out against men, and demand swift eradication of all evil and injustice.

The difference now is that their fevered consciences are further inflamed by knowledge of their numbers, and from the comfort they gained they seek to convert arrogance from an attitude into a course of action.

They have defied impatience and have come to imagine that by force and violence and volume of protesting sound they can coerce and blackmail their fellow men into delivering tomorrow a millennium whose true outlines even they do not pretend to perceive in an era smothered in complexities.

The fact is, all too many protesters are just dabblers and dilettantes who know little and care less about how real changes in school, government and society are effected. Even where high mental capacity exists, it is useless if not well-employed.

In his book, "No Easy Victories," John W. Gardner writes:

"We are producing the most educated, articulate and brilliant sidewalk superintendents the world has ever seen. 'We have a limitless supply of people with the intelligence, and expertise, to analyze the society's problems, but very few with the motivation and stamina to leap in and help solve them."

To those student rebels who say it is not their function to build but merely to crush what is bad, Gardner would say as he does to all who see something peculiarly ennobling about criticism:

"The result: a landscape littered with mutilated bodies and razed structures. Nothing admirable, nothing alive except the insatiable zest to destroy, dissect and demolish, nothing left standing except some outsized critical egos."

Few men in school or government are as evil as the rebels contend. Nothing they want — the end of the war, of the draft, of racism, of flaws in the democratic process — will come as quickly as they are demanding.

Change is slow, even with the prod of reasonable impatience, with high intelligence and the best of good will at work.

To the extent the rebels seek to defy this reality by storming the gates and using the enforcer's primitive threat, they are performing little ceremonies of ignorance.

In the process, this mindless cluster of the well-informed is indeed invalidating rational thought and corrupting its most prized haven — the university. Schools may sorely need improvement, but disruption and derangement hardly seem the proper paths.

Nothing good is gained by giving vent to what Gardner calls the "natural ferocity of the species" or having hysterical seizures over our problems — even war. Nor are individual freedom and creativity advanced by wallowing in disorder and human crudity.

February 17, 1969
Editor, The Freeman

It matters little who pulls the trigger of a gun aimed at your heart. You are killed whether it is done by a vicious assailant or a small child who didn't realize the gun was loaded.

Once the course of a ship is set the unseen rudder beneath the waves sees that all passengers proceed to the predetermined port. That some passengers are traveling to visit relatives, some to transact business, and some to conduct criminal activities affects not at all the course the ship is taking. Different motivations of the passengers will not alter the destination of the ship.

So it is politically.

The Socialist Communist conspiracy always works to diminish local government and promote centralized government in the countries it seeks to take over. Communists are despised by Americans and when recognized lack effectiveness. "Liberals," who are respected by many people, are much more effective in bringing about the centralized government the Communists seek. Though many "liberals" seek centralized government unselfishly and sincerely, they are nevertheless traveling the route the Communist-Socialist rudder has determined.

No matter what the "liberals" motives, he is destroying constitutional government. No matter what his motives, he is setting up all powerful, unlimited centralized government the very antithesis of the American way of life, the nullification of all that our inspired Founding Fathers stood for. It is more charitable not to attribute the motives of the vicious assailant to the "liberal" who aims the gun of centralized government at your heart; it is kinder to compare him with the child who didn't know the gun was loaded.

Very truly yours,
(Mrs.) ROSE M. APREA

Income Tax Series . . . Part 4

Some Special Exemptions for the Senior Citizens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elderly persons have a quite a different bag of income tax problems from those of younger people, but their age also entitles them to a few tax breaks.

Exemptions, for instance, come in the large economy size if you're 65 or over. If you're under 65 you get a personal exemption—a reduction of income—of $600, but at 65 it jumps to $1,200.

This doubleheader exemption is yours even if you were 65 for only one day of the tax year.

In fact, the Internal Revenue Service sportingly takes the position that you complete your 65th year of life on the day before your 65th birthday, so if you were born Jan. 1, 1904, you were 65 for tax purposes in 1968.

For most persons past 65, income is not only reduced from pre-retirement levels but comes in different forms. Instead of a paycheck, it's probably a monthly Social Security check and a pension or annuity check.

The Social Security benefits are not taxable and should not be reported on your tax return. Pensions and annuities are taxable, in whole or in part, depending on type.

If your employer paid the entire cost of your pension, an increasingly common fringe benefit, it's all taxable income when you start collecting it.

But if you contributed part of the pension cost during your working years, part of each check you receive is actually a return of your contributions and tax-exempt. The remainder, however, is subject to taxation.

Specific Exemptions

Like all general rules, this one has specific exceptions. If this is your first year of filing an income tax return as a pensioner you would be well advised to consult your nearest IRS office for literature on the ins and outs of pension and annuity income.

If you received a lump sum payment as the beneficiary of a life insurance policy, in almost all cases this is tax-free and should not be reported. But the ground rules change if the deceased was your husband or wife and you elect to receive the proceeds in installments instead of all at once.

The provisions on installment payments to a surviving spouse, incidentally, are applicable at any age, not just for those over 65.

The rule allows a surviving spouse to exclude from taxable income up to $10,000 a year received as interest on life insurance proceeds taken in installments instead of as a lump sum.

For instance, the company might offer the option of collecting the face value of a $20,000 policy all at once or in 10 annual installments of $2,300. The $300 would be interest and, so long as it was going to a surviving spouse, nontaxable. Of course the $2,000 would also be nontaxable.

Those who have recently become widows or widowers should be alerted to the fact that if their spouse died in 1968 they may still go ahead and file a joint return this one last time. This rule also is applicable at any age.

Ordinarily, if a house is sold for more than it originally cost the profit is taxable.

But if the seller is 65 or over before the sale and owned and used the home as his principal residence for five out of the past eight years, he won't have to pay tax on his gain so long as the sales price—after deducting sales commissions and a few other excludable items—is not over $20,000.

Even if it's over $20,000, part of the gain needn't be taxed. But it's very important that elderly persons who wish to take wish to reinvest the proceeds in another house—fighting crabgrass and a cranky furnace has them to do it just once. It is lost its appeal and they want to try apartment living.

'Sensitivity Training' to Deal With the 'Unemployables'

NEW YORK (UPI)—When American industry took on the task of hiring and training the nation's "hardcore unemployables," it realized its efforts would be wasted if it didn't prepare its supervisors and foremen to deal with the unique problems of these people.

The program for supervisors is called "sensitivity training." Its development and the development of training programs for the hardcore have created a new industry.

One official of the National Alliance of Businessmen, industry's main effort to employ the hardcore, estimates there are now 500 companies across the United States developing curricula and training teachers to train either the hardcore or their potential supervisors.

A company that specializes in sensitivity training is the Human Development Institute (HDI) of Atlanta, a subsidiary of Bell and Howell. HDI has developed imaginative training aides such as glasses with prism lenses that distort reality, and black and white masks. They are designed to help

"sensitize" the supervisor to the unique problems of the "hardcore."

While wearing the glasses, the supervisor trainees are required to put together a puzzle, or to catch a ball (which do you catch when nine are coming at you?). The idea is to make the supervisor aware of the problems of distortion which life in the ghetto has given to many of its residents.

The masks are for role playing by the supervisors. One puts on a black mask and plays the role of a Negro employee. The other wears the white one and is the supervisor. They confront each other on problems, such as tardiness or absenteeism, which they will encounter with the new, hardcore employees.

The program gives supervisors an opportunity to look at life in a way they seldom do," said George Bruce Jr. of HDI. "It gives them a chance to see how uncomfortable it is to move into a new environment, to role play from the other side of the fence, from the employee's point of view."

The supervisor in this program learns what kind of problems to expect from the ghetto resident and how to deal with them fairly on the job. He is taught to expect different styles of dress and different hair styles and life styles.

He may also get a sampling of Negro history and the sociology of the ghetto in order to equip him to deal with "hardcore" new employees and, in situations where it's necessary, to help other "regular" employees to adjust to the presence and special problems of the hardcore "unemployables" being employed for the first time.

Carnegie Response Is Good

The response to the Dale Carnegie Course in the Kingston area has been tremendous, according to Hal Schultz, area manager of the Dale Carnegie Course, who is directing the formation of the class here. The Kingston Daily Freeman is sponsoring the course as a public service.

In an interview today, Schultz said, "We are working on a backlog of telephone calls and other inquiries and those who have responded will be given additional information as soon as possible."

Anyone interested in knowing more about the course should write or call The Daily Freeman at 331-5000.

ARC Gym Class For Children Starts Today

KINGSTON

The Ulster County Association for Retarded Children announced today, a new program for mentally retarded children, ages ten and up, in Ulster County.

Daniel J. Leahy, executive director, said "We are pleased that we were able to obtain Edward Pfeiffer, licensed physical education instructor to conduct evening classes in physical education for the mentally retarded."

Pfeiffer will institute a program consisting of skills, basic games and exercises especially designed for the mentally retarded boy or girl.

"The John F. Kennedy Foundation of Washington, D. C. has enacted a Junior Olympics program for these youngsters and through which, we hope to provide healthy activities and a chance to enter the National Olympic contest to be held next summer," explained Leahy.

The City of Kingston Recreation Department has provided the facilities of the Edison School gym Thursday evenings. Parents may enroll their child on opening night tonight, between 7 and 8 o'clock.

The Ulster County Association for Retarded Children is a Community Chest agency.

Girl, 4, Drowns

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — Christine Swarthout, 4, wandered out onto the ice of a farm pond Wednesday to play with some ducks and was drowned when the ice broke and dropped her into nine feet of icy water.

Police said the Geneva girl and an unidentified 4-year-old boy had been watching horses in a field near the pond when the girl spotted the ducks and tried to walk toward them.

The boy ran to a nearby house, but was unable to tell a woman resident exactly what had happened.

Christine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swarthout, live at 42 White Springs Rd.

AP Technician Dies
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Lester L. Manley, a field technician employed by The Associated Press for 34 years, died Wednesday night in Deaconess Hospital after a short illness. He was 54.

Manley was born in Des Moines, Iowa, and joined The Associated Press in Sioux City, Iowa. He spent most of his AP career in Buffalo as a wirephoto operator.

He also worked as a wirephoto operator in St. Paul, Minn.

Fish Backs Renaming Of House Committee

KINGSTON—Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr. today swung solidly behind renaming the former House Un-American Affairs committee as the Committee on Internal Security. He also took a stand on making oil companies liable for pollution costs and cleanup.

The vote calling for a change in the House Rules Committee setting-up of the standing committee of the House, came after an hour's debate.

"In addition to the name change, the new language setting up the committee clarifies its functions. This, it is hoped, will meet some of the criticism that has been leveled at the committee in the past—that its mandate was too vague."

"There was an effort to have the committee switched to the jurisdiction of the Judiciary Committee," Congressman Fish explained. "But as 38 per cent of all bills introduced in Congress are already sent to the Judiciary Committee, members of that Committee simply did not want the added burden and this issue did not come to a vote."

Rep. Fish said.

Fish also came out in strong support of Interior Secretary

Walter J. Hickel's order making oil companies liable for pollution clean-up costs and sources.

"Instead of exploiting our natural resources, we should post-lease off-shore sites."

"Timely and tough," the conservation-oriented congressman said, "the order which assesses our knowledge of what damage drilling until the need is great liability without the need for age such exploitation may do is substantially larger than it is today."

Ellenville Dump To Remain Open This Weekend

ELLENVILLE—New York City's Mayor John V. Lindsay and Ellenville Village Manager Paul Boucher have something in common—even if it's only garbage.

Boucher, however, has a solution.

Although the village had originally intended to close its sanitary landfill facility Friday and Saturday because of Washington's birthday, the manager announced Wednesday that the dump would remain open from 8-11 both mornings to accommodate commercial traffic.

"The merchants in this town," Boucher said, "don't have the facilities to store refuse for a three day period and rather than have it blowing all over town we decided to keep the dump open three hours each morning."

The facility goes back into normal operation Monday morning.

OFF RUNWAY—A Mohawk airliner with 44 persons and 3 crew members aboard ran off a runway at Albany County Airport late Wednesday. No one was hurt. Flight 288 Syracuse-Utica-Albany-Hartford-Boston stopped just short of a fence that borders a heavily traveled highway near the runway. It was snowing at the time. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Condition of City Man 'Poor,' Struck by Car

KINGSTON—Dennis Berardinelli, 71, of 409 Washington Avenue, was gravely injured shortly after 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, when he was hit by a car as he was walking across Albany Avenue at Route 587.

The man was listed in poor condition at Benedictine Hospital where he was rushed by Fatum's Ambulance. Kingston police investigated the mishap and noted the pedestrian suffered fractures of the skull and pelvis, and possible internal and other injuries.

The car involved in the accident was operated by Harry J. Freer Jr., 33, of Cottonwood Lane, Woodstock. He was traveling north on Albany Avenue at Route 587 when the pedestrian appeared in the path of the vehicle and attempts by the driver to avoid the accident were futile. A police report noted that Berardinelli was walking through the intersection against the traffic lights.

Dutchess Mishap Fatal to Man

POUGHKEEPSIE—Dutchess County authorities recorded its second highway fatality of 1969 on Wednesday, after a 36-year-old Connecticut man died of injuries sustained in a traffic accident on Route 55 in the Town of Beekman.

Jimmie Ray Kerr, of Ridgefield was traveling along the highway and after passing three vehicles going in the same direction, he lost control as his car skidded on snow, crossed into the westbound lane where it hit a snowbank before flipping into the air and landing on its top.

Beekman Rescue Squad was dispatched to the scene and worked several minutes before Kerr was extricated from the wreckage of his car. He was taken to Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

A verdict was withheld pending a formal inquest before County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester Golding of Wappingers Falls. The fatality was investigated by Trooper Terrence Cummings and BCI Investigator J. B. Apollinaro of Fishkill.

Mohawk Shows 50 Pct. Increase

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—Mohawk Airlines reported today that it carried 50 per cent more cargo last year than in 1967.

Edward Baker, manager of cargo sales, said the airline carried 5,730,825 ton-miles in 1968, compared with 3,819,684 ton-miles in 1967. Ton-miles is a term, like man-hours, based on one ton on a mile.

Mayone Calls Monday Night GOP Session

KINGSTON—John R. Mayone, chairman of the Kingston Republican Committee, has called an "extremely important" meeting of all committeemen and junior committeemen for Monday night at 8 p. m. in the Surrogate's Room of the County Office Building.

Mayone, in a letter to the committeemen, said that "it appears that Primary Day will remain as June 17 so a city convention must now be set, probably the last week in March."

Mayone noted that candidates for mayor, alderman-at-large, city judge, aldermen in the 13 wards and eight candidates for county legislators must be picked this year.

There will also be a report and discussion by the Finance Committee, headed by James Rapp, concerning fund raising efforts for this year.

Pleads Guilty To Assault 3rd

MILTON—Charged with second degree assault stemming from an incident Saturday night, Earl Ewing, 29, of this community, appeared Wednesday night before Marlborough Town Justice Patrick Mataraza.

Arthur Redrick, who accused Ewing of cutting him on the head during an argument, withdrew the charge. The judge then accepted a plea of guilty to third degree assault, and gave the defendant credit for time served. Ewing also was placed on probation for six months.

After the incident, Dedrick was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh where sutures were taken to close the scalp laceration. Trooper J. E. Hornbeck of Highland investigated the case.

Two Motorists Cited by Police

Kingston police issued summonses to two motorists charging violations of the vehicle and traffic law. John D. Relyea, 35, of 147 Downs Street, was booked for operating a car with insufficient head lights, and Robert H. Vandam, 24, of 87-B Hillcrest Gardens, was cited for driving a motor vehicle with a defective muffler.

CAB Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has approved a Mohawk Airlines request to operate non-stop between Albany and Buffalo, N.Y. The new route is to begin April 21, with two non-stop flights daily.

NEW SBA HEAD

President Nixon has picked Hilary Sandoval, a Mexican-American, to replace Howard Samuels as head of the Small Business Administration (SBA). The appointment of Sandoval, 39, an El Paso, Texas, businessman, to head the SBA would fulfill Nixon's campaign promise to bring Spanish-speaking Americans into the government. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Garbage, Trash Is Piled High

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP)—

Garbage and trash continued to pile in this city today as 15 garbage-collectors stayed off the job for the fourth successive day.

They quit work Monday when Local 398 of the Teamsters Union began picketing the office and plant of their employer, Z-B Processing Corp. The union is seeking recognition as bargaining agent for the garbage-collectors.

Meanwhile, City Administrator Ira M. Gates said he had given Z-B Processing until the weekend to resume trash and garbage collections or face loss of its $119,000-a-year contract. The company offered to lend its refuse-collection equipment to the city but Gates said the city did not have crews to operate it.

Actual Picture

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Television commercials which purport to show color television sets in operation must use an actual television picture, and not a simulation, the Federal Trade Commission has ruled. The agency said use of a simulated picture on the tube "may have the tendency and capacity to mislead or deceive the consuming public." A simulation may be used, but it must be so labeled, the agency said.

BEARDED PRIZE — John Cosenza of Johnny's Drive-In in Ulster Park gets ready to lose his beard at the hands of Peter Edelman, a customer who won the odd prize for the benefit of Cerebral Palsy Fund. Started as a joke, the beard became the "prize" of a contest held at the drive-in. Cosenza sealed a jar for CP money with the winner having the opportunity to take home Cosenza's beard. He said $47 was collected and added to that amount, sending a check for $75 to the CP fund. Winner Edelman decided that a razor might do a better job and put the lawn clippers down, to the relief of the man behind the soon-to-be-gone beard. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Hickel Calls Off Sale of Oil Leases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, in his third action of the week aimed at preventing another "Santa Barbara tragedy," today called off the sale of offshore oil and gas leases.

The sale of 27 Gulfcoast tracts that could have brought the government millions of dollars, was scheduled for next Tuesday and was the only such sale of federal offshore leases imminent.

Hickel said the sale would be postponed "until we are positive we have regulations which will prevent pollution such as the Santa Barbara tragedy."

He referred to the 11-day leak of a Union Oil Co. well which spread an 800-square-mile slick across the Santa Barbara channel off California before it was plugged Feb. 8.

Earlier this week, Hickel issued regulations holding oil companies responsible for cleanup and damage costs from any offshore-well pollution and proposed new and tighter regulations for drilling in the Santa Barbara channel.

Oil and gas leases along the Gulf of Mexico coastline already have brought the Interior Department close to $200 million in bonus bids.

Sixteen tracts were leased Nov. 19, 1968 for a total of $150 million in bonuses, followed by another 20 tracts for $44 million Jan. 14.

Preliminary steps have been taken toward the possible lease-ing late this year of areas off Alaska, but that sale has not yet been definitely scheduled.

Announcing the latest move, Hickel said, "We have postponed the Gulf Coast sale as another step in the exhaustive review being conducted into all aspects of federal offshore drilling and production."

"Consequently, any bids received for the Louisiana tracts will be returned to the sender unopened."

"In announcing this postponement," he added, "I again declare that monetary considerations must not be allowed to obstruct consideration of what is best to protect the environment in which we live."

Infirmary Lists Gifts, Services

The patients and staff of Ulster County Infirmary wish to acknowledge with thanks the following gifts and services during the month of January. Birthdays were celebrated for the month of January by the Jaycees, Adiska Comvo, Miss Bertha Waterman, Mrs. John Wolfenstein, Mrs. William Hornbeck and Mrs. Olive Terwilliger. Birthday cards were received from the Mary and Martha Fellowship of the Grace Community Church of Lake Katrine.

Bed-jackets and wool booties were received from Mrs. Guy McCorkle; candy for the staff from Mr. and Mrs. Scully. Occupational Therapy workers for January were Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Paul Barnum and Mrs. Vernon Kelley. Occupational Therapy workers for January were Mrs. Adiska Comvo, Miss Bertha Waterman, Mrs. John Wolfenstein, Mrs. William Hornbeck and Mrs. Olive Terwilliger. Tri-Hi girls and CYO Teen Club of St. Peter's visited patients and helped with feeding.

Catholic Church Services were conducted by the Rev. Frost, the Rev. La Bar and the Rev. Edward Farrelly.

Donation for ice cream came from Dr. Frederick Snyder. Clothing was received from Mrs. Edward Leverette.

Occupational Supplies were donated by Mrs. Ethel Jehle. Bed-pads were made by the Columbiettes of Kingston Council No. 275 of the Knights of Columbus, and Mrs. Frank Branigan, made Johnny coats.

Two More Meetings On Rhinebeck Zoning

RHINEBECK March 4, they are being held in order to provide information for the public concerning proposed zoning. Rhinebeck is one of several Northern Dutchess towns which have taken part in a federal and state-sponsored project in which the services of an architectural firm (in this case Sargeant, Webster, Crenshaw and Foley of Syracuse) are obtained to draw up a zoning proposal. John Vatey, the firm's representative will present a final draft at the March 4 joint meeting with the town and village government.

The first meeting will be held tonight at 8 at Town Hall. The second is scheduled for the same time and place on Tuesday, Feb. 25. Part of a series of meetings planned before the final report of the architect is submitted.

Young Urges Recognition By All Races

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, told a college audience Wednesday night that the black American "is not about to let the white American off the hook by getting on a boat and going to Africa or establishing a separate state."

Speaking at a week-long Cornell University conference titled "One Nation—Divided?", Young called for a "creative confrontation" between the races in America.

This, he said, would involve a type of integration that recognizes "the positive and the strengths of each culture."

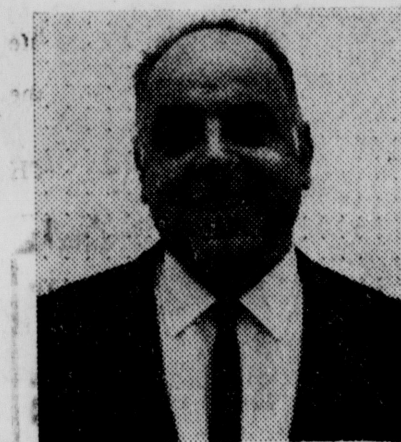

Singling out some Negro students in the hall, Young advised them that "unless you can talk the language of white America, you can shout and no one will hear you."

He said whites will have to avoid the cliché of "we made it, why can't you?"

"I can't live in Bronxville even with all the degrees I have," he said.

"We've got a claim to every blade of grass in this country, to every acre, and white America will just have to deal with the black American," he said.

Ramsey Clark, former U.S. Attorney General, is scheduled to speak tonight at the conference, sponsored by the Interfraternity Council.

'AFTER YOU' — Apollo 9 command pilot James A. McDivitt (L) kids with his fellow astronaut Russell L. Schweickart as they get into their van. The astronauts normally follow a procedure of walking in the order of McDivitt, Scott and then Schweickart. McDivitt, in a playful mood exchanges "after you" signs with Schweickart and finally brought up the rear as last man into the van. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

McDivitt Describes Fragile Moon Module

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "I wouldn't give you two dollars a day for a room in it. But it's designed to land us on the moon."

That's Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt describing the fragile lunar module which he will help test on the Apollo 9 flight scheduled to start from Cape Kennedy Feb. 28.

McDivitt will command the flight. With him will be Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott and civilian astronaut Russell L. Schweickart.

They are to orbit the earth for 10 days in one of the most complex man in space flights yet attempted. Many rate it tougher than the Apollo 8 moon orbit mission.

The major goal, McDivitt said, is to give the lunar module, called a LEM, its first manned test in space. The LEM looks like a giant bug, like something you might find crawling around the pipes in your basement.

"My impression when I first saw a LEM," McDivitt said, "was 'Holy Moses, we're going to really fly that thing in space.'"

"It's a very flimsy craft — like a tissue paper spacecraft," he continued. "If we're not careful, we could easily put a foot through it."

"It has an entirely different mission than any other spacecraft has ever had. Other spacecraft had to withstand re-entry G's, earth landing with parachutes and had a pretty rough environment to live in."

"The LEM isn't like that," he said. "It is not designed to re-enter the atmosphere or make hard landings. It will fly only in the vacuum of space and not in any atmosphere. It is intended to make a soft landing on the moon."

McDivitt noted there aren't any seats in it, that the two men who pilot it must do so standing up. That's because weight is very critical in the vehicle and because it's not intended to support life for more than a day or so while astronauts are on the moon.

"It's not designed for comfort," McDivitt said. "When they want to rest on the moon they'll have to lie on the floor or against the equipment bays."

When Apollo 9 is launched by a Saturn 5 rocket, McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart will ride in the main Apollo ship, with the LEM resting in an adapter section between the third stage and the spaceship.

Once in orbit 118 miles high, the astronauts separate the main ship, called a command module, and turn around to dock with the LEM, pulling it free on the third day.

"When you put the LEM and command module together you have a pretty big mass weighing about 90,000 pounds," McDivitt said. "It's a completely new guidance task from what we experienced on Apollo 7 and Apollo 8."

"Our job on Apollo 9 is to prove in earth orbit that we can actually fly this gigantic mass to the moon, stop it there and perform a lunar landing with the LEM."

"Ours is a very complex flight because we are flying two vehicles for the first time, and on the fourth day they'll be as much as 100 miles apart, with two men in the LEM and one in the command module."

McDivitt said that on the second day he and Schweickart will crawl through a connecting tunnel into the LEM and activate its systems.

On the third day, Schweickart is to step outside the LEM for a two-hour space walk during which he'll evaluate the suit that later astronauts will wear while strolling on the moon.

Announce Captains For Mothers March

The following Ward Captains for the Mothers March of Dimes, which will be held on Saturday, Feb. 22 and Sunday, Feb. 23, have been announced by Chairmen Mrs. Lincoln Crosby and Mrs. John Devine.

First Ward: Mrs. Robert Edge, Mrs. Frank Nadspal.

Second Ward: Mrs. John Devine, Third Ward: Mrs. Paul Mills.

Fourth Ward: Mrs. William Loughran, Mrs. Thomas Gallagher.

Fifth Ward: Mrs. John Finch, Mrs. Michael Cahill.

Sixth Ward: Mrs. Donald Quick, Mrs. Donald Sweetney.

Seventh Ward: Mrs. J. Austin MacDonald, Mrs. Michael Perry.

Ulster Academy Lists Honors

KINGSTON Seven Ulster Academy students achieved high honor roll grades for the Fall-Winter Term and seven others honor roll grades.

The seven high honors students are Eric Berger, Mary Conrad, Francesca Dordick, Aimee Gerbarg, Suzanne Lowm, Craig Moss, and Roxanne Young.

All of these students compiled a two A over B average with no C's.

Those on the honor roll with a straight B average include Mrs. Edward Norton, Mark Crisman, Wayne Friedman, Harriet Hults, Lynelle Schwartz, Marney Sprague, and Antonia Wilson.

In addition to these students, others have been granted Exempt List standing at the Academy. This is a privilege awarded by the faculty to students of solid academic performance whose maturity and school citizenship exempt them, if they so choose, from attendance at required study halls. This list is examined and republished by the Academy faculty every two weeks. Exempt standing was recently awarded to E. J. Gona, Katherine McNamara, Toni Reynolds, Tad Wise, Paul Anderson, Steven Mezer, Jay Levine, Deborah Tondreau, Joshua Slippen, Julie Hutchins, Scott MacRae, Michael Bernard, and Robert Meredith.

Headmaster R. A. Nelson pointed out that several of the honor and high honor students are taking six major subjects in addition to required minors and that several others are involved in independent study projects under the direction of a member of the faculty.

Speaker for GOP of Rochester

ROCHESTER — A native of Onondaga County, three times assemblyman, Clarence D. Lane received his primary and secondary education in Ashland, and as Assemblyman for the 10th District, he completed his term. He is very active in Boy Scouting, Little League, and he works very hard both at home and in the legislature to see that the many natural and historical sites in Greene County and Columbia County are properly preserved.

Crime Up But Fewer In Jails

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — More major crimes were committed but fewer persons were in jails in New York State last year than any time in the last decade.

Figures made available by the State Corrections Department show a steadily rising number of arrests for felonies and indictable misdemeanors — the basic group from which prison populations are made up — and a steadily decreasing state prison population.

For example, the figures for 1967 show 44,121 arrests for major crimes, and a state prison population of 19,698. A decade later, in 1967, there were 30,474 arrests for major crimes but only 14,688 persons were in state prisons.

By 1968 the prison population had dropped to 13,520, but accurate arrest figures were not yet compiled.

Reasons for the seemingly strange directions taken by these two figures varied considerably, ranging from increased use of probation by judges to Supreme Court decisions making it more difficult to get convictions.

At any rate, if there are vacancies in the state jails it's not the fault of Onondaga County — at least according to Dist. Atty. Frank Gualtieri.

Gualtieri said in an interview that his office disposed of, by plea or trial, more than 500 felonies last year with 40 per cent of the defendants given jail sentences.

He said "our county judges have been increasingly tough in dealing with crimes of physical violence."

His statement was echoed by Onondaga County Court Judge Ormond Gale who said "I send as many to jail as I ever did." Gale added, however, that prison administrators now seem more oriented toward rehabilitation.

J. Edwin LaValle, warden of Clinton Prison in Dannemora, attributes the prison decrease to many things, including what he called a "new thought" on penology.

LaValle said under current law a violator gets a "reasonable" sentence and eventually is released. Under the old system, he said, a fourth offender got what amounted to life.

Some court decisions have released a lot of prisoners to state mental hospitals where they undergo treatment aimed at their problems.

There is now a different sociological idea about confinement, LaValle said. People realize that if confinement will help, it will do it in a reasonable time, he explained.

He said his "big job" is to prepare convicts for eventual release, and added that parole boards are working hard to empty more cells and keep them empty by proper rehabilitation.

Auburn Prison Warden Daniel McMann said educational programs have resulted in a steady population level at Auburn. He attributed the drop at other institutions, however, to changes in sentencing procedures and U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Egg Farmers To Vote on Market Order

KINGSTON — Ulster County egg farmers have been advised of the referendum vote on the proposed New York State Marketing Order. Voting for area egg farmers will take place at the Ulster County Court House, Wall Street, Kingston, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 27.

According to Robert D. Guzewich, cooperative extension agent, each poultry or egg farm is entitled to one vote. The referendum vote is being conducted by the commissioner of agriculture and markets throughout the state on the question of whether the proposed marketing order should be approved or disapproved.

Plattekill Unit

The Junior Grange of Plattekill, under Mrs. David Sherwood, will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Grange Hall. Other activities planned include a Community Service Committee presentation of the Lecturer's Program on Saturday during the regular meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Holiday Party

A George Washington's Go-Go Party is being planned by young people of St. Mark's AME Church, 72 Wurts Street, Saturday, Feb. 22. Youngsters eight to 13 years of age may attend from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

ABCs for Unexpected Trips to Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A complete package of helpful hints for the traveler to Cuba was bound to happen, I suppose, for the packed air travel. Someone has now published an "Air Traveler's Guide to Cuba." Contents include a 4x8-inch escape map, which, when folded for easy mailing, becomes a 17x21-inch map. The map covers the entire Caribbean area, including the waterfalls where Columbus fourth ship went over the edge. Distances and the most direct routes from Cuba to nearby points are marked for the convenience of swimmers. Suppose, for example, that a stranded airline passenger timely guide is billed as "a swims to Miami. He is advised to check with the American embassy on arrival. He will get you back in U.S.A." Passengers swimming to Guantánamo are advised to "contact" a local branch CIA (behind that bush). Those heading for Key West are told: "Don't stop — continue to Key Biscayne — it's more in." Among the other "survival tips" is a glossary of colloquial Cubanese. It lists a number of phrases, quips, gags, conversation openers to help double your pleasure, double your fun. Here are some of the things that American should learn to plane with them: 1. "Greetings, comrade. I like it here." 2. "I had no idea she was married to you." 3. "Why is the second car so expensive?" 4. "You bet your sweet peep." 5. "You're right, of course, right." 6. "Against which wall? Oh, that wall." 7. "No blindfold, thank you, just a cigarette please." And here are some of the items airline passengers are advised to carry on board the plane with them:

Rhythm to Drill-Biafra Problem

UMUAHIA, Biafra (AP) — shaved heads dipped lower. A slight rotating movement began with their shining black shou- ders. "Don't dance. Don't dance," screamed the sergeant. Getting new army men to abandon their instinctive responses to rhythm in favor of the nature and preparation of the common fighting man in the Nigerian civil war.

The installation contained a mixture of hefty youths and low-chested, scrawny boys. For the most part, the recruits ap- peared to be in the late teens and early 20s.

Under a tree, 50 youths sat holding long sticks—which sub- stitute for rifles in Biafran camps of this sort.

A sergeant was showing them the parts of a real weapon—a Madison automatic rifle. "And this is the plunger," he cried. "The . . ." he demanded. "Plunger," the men yelled back in unison.

Under another tree, stick-tap- ping recruits were singing as the camp "jester"—a rubber- legged soldier with a baggy uni- form and a crooked cap— danced barefoot.

"A young man is a fine thing," the men chanted. Another number consisted en- tirely of the repetition of the phrase "Holy, holy, holy, Odu- megwu Ojukwu another savior." They were singing about the Biafran head of state.

In a field among palm fronds stuck in the ground to camou- flag the camp against air at- tacks, men were learning to aim. They were in four lines. The man at the front of each line had a rifle. The rest had sticks. "Close the bloody left eye," cried the instructor as the youths sat and squinted down their sticks toward a row of bulle- yes.

"And the muzzle shouldn't be in the back of the man in front of you or you will kill him. What's the matter with you?" Capt. Vincent Onuoha, head of the camp, said the recruits are here three weeks before being sent to forward areas for what he called "battle inoculation." They get to fire three to five bullets here.

"We need the ammunition for the real thing," he explained. "And besides," interjected a lieutenant, "the real fighting is done with this."

He grabbed his shirt over the heart.

The recruits who had been learning to aim began whooping and running in circles around the palm frond field. At an or- der they dropped on their chests, aimed their sticks and pal boom. After 19 months of war, the Biafran regime has begun to intensify a civil and military mo- bilization. The effort appears to have al- ternative purposes—to live out a long siege by surrounding Nigerian forces if that should become the course of the strug- gle, or to beat back any new of- fensive by the Nigerians aimed at crushing this last major town under Biafran control.

The Biafrans say the mobiliza- tion demonstrates their avowed intention never to enter into a formal surrender.

The Mid-Hudson Heart Association, 72 Main Street, reminds residents that callers left "not-at-home" envelopes for some residents during last Sunday's drive. ## Pentagon Keeps Lobbying Force Totaling 339

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is spending $4 million a year on a lobbying force of 339—more than one for every two members of Congress—to keep the congressmen happy, argue the armed forces' point of view, and feed the Pentagon information about what's happening on Capitol Hill.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called it "an over-large establishment" and added in an interview:

"It appears to me that admirals and colonels could be used to better purpose and effect, and while I personally appreciate the great assistance which they have rendered I think the same amount of assistance could be accomplished with fewer personnel."

Defense officials say the big legislative liaison force is necessary because of growing demands from and upon members of Congress, including an "astronomical number" of written and telephoned inquiries from their constituents.

While some Pentagon critics see it as further evidence of expanding military influence, defense officials insist there's no cause for concern that the weight of such a disciplined legislative effort might tip the scales in favor of the military's position in a Senate or House debate.

On the contrary, said a Pentagon officer, "We're always being pushed into a corner by the Fulbrights and others."

He asks the Pentagon for information on a military issue—as in think senators regard them in the debate over the Sentinel anti-ballistic missile system—he really just as members of the services helping with the mail." supporting the Defense Department's view.

"It would be silly to say we don't give them material that supports the secretary's decision," said Marine Brig. Gen. James F. Lawrence, deputy assistant to the secretary of defense for legislative affairs.

UCCC Hosts Insurance Executives

The National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies has chosen Ulster County Community College as co-sponsor for a three-day management workshop. The workshop, scheduled for March 24-26, is part of the Insurance Association's educational program and is designed to present current managerial concepts, techniques, and trends to executives of member companies.

The National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies (NAMIC) is comprised of 1,134 companies. The Association is represented locally by the Colonial Cooperative Insurance Company of Kingston. Colonial will represent the Association in planning and implementing the workshop.

Ulster County Community College, as co-sponsor of the workshop, will participate in formulating and presenting the program. In previous years, NAMIC workshops have been held under the auspices of Pennsylvania State University and University of Illinois. The choice of UCCC presents an unusual opportunity for the local college. As co-sponsor, the college acknowledges its broad commitment to continuing education, and brings to the area a new group of business executives.

Time Running Out For Plane and 35

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (UPI)—Time is running out for possible survivors among 35 persons aboard a "gamblers special" airliner which vanished two days ago in snowswept terrain that ranges from desolate prairie to 14,000-foot peaks.

"It's pretty hopeless now," said Lt. Col. James Helm, head of the Nevada Civil Air Patrol. "But, there's always a chance some of the passengers may be alive—if we can find them soon."

The twin-engine DC3, carrying 32 passengers and a crew of three, disappeared in predawn darkness Tuesday shortly after taking off from Hawthorne Airport on a return flight to Southern California.

"The craft probably hit a mountain," Helm speculated Wednesday. "If the plane was in trouble the pilot would have radioed, but there was no contact with the ground after the pilot filed his flight plan shortly after takeoff."

A strong storm, which has dumped 30 inches of snow on the area since Tuesday, limited search efforts to ground parties. Eighty men using a fleet of 38 jeeps and wide-track vehicles battled the drifting snow Wednesday to check reports of low-flying aircraft about the time the airliner disappeared.

The Air Force managed to send up four search planes, but more than two dozen light planes from the Nevada and California CAP were grounded at several airports because of the weather.

The search centered in an area from 40 to 100 miles south of Hawthorne near the Nevada-California border where the Nevada desert, 5,000 feet above sea level, climbs sharply into the towering High Sierra.

The plane, civilian version of the reliable C47 of World War II, was one of three operated by Mineral County Airlines for nightly gambling excursions to Hawthorne's El Capitan casino. The $10 excursion included air fare, dinner and cocktails.

Broome Juniors Are Facing Year Suspensions

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—Three junior undergraduates face one-semester suspensions as a result of a December demonstration on the campus of the State University of New York at Binghamton.

An ad hoc juridical review board on campus Wednesday recommended the punishments in the first of 43 cases stemming from the blocking of entrances of the administration building during the visit of a Marine recruiter.

Lodge to . . .

Meanwhile on the war front, U.S. Marines led by three colonels from Virginia killed 103 North Vietnamese soldiers today in a series of savage close-quarter battles atop the unnamed mountains dominating the Communists' A Shau Valley supply route from Laos.

The Marines lost nine men killed and 17 wounded today when they clawed their way up the mountains in 100 degree heat and fought the North Vietnamese who died rather than surrender their mountain guns. The Leathernecks captured two, killing the guncrews.

Some of the battles were fought within two miles of the Laotian border and it was clear the Marines had won a strong foothold in the campaign to win control of the 30-mile long A Shau Valley that funnels Communist troops and materiel from Laos to the Da Nang area.

Fourteen persons boarded the plane at Long Beach Monday night and 18 others were picked up at a stop in Burbank. The plane took off from Hawthorne for the return flight at 4:30 a.m. Tuesday.

It was last heard from 18 minutes later when the pilot, Fred Hall of San Fernando Valley, Calif., radioed his flight plan to Tonopah, 110 miles to the south.

Col. Helm said Hall had flown the route between Hawthorne and Southern California "more than 1,000 times in eight years." He described the civilian pilot as "one of the best in the business."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened mixed today in moderately active trading.

The news background was not likely to offer any encouragement to investors, but some belief arose that a rally is about due following a three-day plunge that sent many issues to their lowest levels in more than a year. Pre-weekend, evening-up operations prior to the shutdown for the Washington's birthday celebration also may be a plus factor.

FOR OKI RETURN—Sen Edmund Muskie (D-Maine), at a press conference Wednesday, said that the U.S. should return Okinawa to Japanese jurisdiction by 1972 "or earlier if possible." Muskie, who recently visited Japan, said U.S. political and military officials should draw up plans that would enable the U.S. to "move out of Okinawa as soon as possible." (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Negotiations Resumed To End the Dock Tieup

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Negotiations toward ending the 63-day old Atlantic and Gulf ports waterfront strike resumed here today and longshoremen in Miami and Baltimore could return to the job by the end of this week if they ratify new contracts.

Talks remained deadlocked in Boston with no new sessions scheduled. The port of New Orleans also was idle.

Some 500 dock workers in the Miami-Everglades area were scheduled to vote today on a tentative contract agreement. Acceptance could mean a return to work Friday, federal mediator William A. McAllister said in Miami.

The Baltimore District Council of the International Longshoremen's Association, representing about 5,000 stevedores, approved a new three-year contract Wednesday. Members will vote on Friday and if they approve the pact, they could return to the job Saturday.

Richard L. Askew, president of ILA 1291 here, criticized officials of the ILA in New York, where strikers returned to work last Sunday.

He said his membership "will not consummate an agreement with employers unless the setback clause is eliminated. We will not budge."

In New Orleans, U.S. District Court Judge Frederick Heebe took under advisement Wednesday a petition by the National Labor Relations Board for him to order an immediate ratification vote by 7,000 longshoremen there on a tentative agreement reached last month.

A similar NLRB petition led to the end of a strike by the 22,000 longshoremen last week in New York, the nation's largest port.

The setback clause, standing in the way of settlement in the strike of 5,000 stevedores in the port of Philadelphia, permits shippers to call a man to work, then compensate him with only one hour's pay if no work is available.

Federal mediator John J. Sullivan said Wednesday he saw no solution to the dock strike in Boston for at least two weeks. No new talks were scheduled, he said.

When both sides again sit down to bargain, he said, "it's going to take a lot of eyeball sessions before we really get this rolling."

Canada, Italy

Formosa Ready to Break With Two

Nationalist China is prepared for Canadian and Italian diplomatic recognition of the mainland Communist regime and is equally prepared to break relations with both when they do.

Both explain their actions from the standpoint that Red China is a fact and that it is unrealistic to continue to withhold recognition from a nation whose population soon will reach one billion, a view shared by some members of the U.S. Congress and others.

Officially, the United States continues its support of the Nationalists and has expressed its displeasure to both its NATO allies over their forthcoming actions.

Quietly, the United States and Japan have been trying to persuade Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa to retain his ties with Italy and Canada after recognition of the Peking regime, but he remains adamant.

To take their place he is looking toward the new nations of Africa where the Nationalists already have enjoyed considerable success.

Chief factor in this success has been Formosa's agricultural aid program launched in 1961. Among the African countries, the Nationalists have diplomatic relations with 21 as against 14 for Communist China.

Some 600 Nationalist officials are at work in Africa, lending technical aid to public health, fisheries and food processing.

One secret of their success, the Nationalists emphasize, is that no political strings are running into hundreds of millions of dollars. They have won their friends through a comparatively modest program which so far has cost about $50 million over the flashier projects undertaken in Tanzania. Costs could run to $400 million.

OFFICERS INSTALLED — Gilbert E. Gray of Doctors Ambulance Service, Kingston, presents gavel to Thomas Burkhouse of the Ellenville Rescue Squad at the installation of new officers of the Ulster County Ambulance Association. Gray retired after serving two years as president of the unit.

Ulster County Ambulance Members Complete Training, Install Slate

NAPANOCH

Newly elected officers of the Ulster County Ambulance Association were installed at a recent dinner held at Wenigs Restaurant in this community. Approximately 100 association members and guests attended the event from this county and surrounding communities.

Thomas Burkhouse of the Ellenville Rescue Squad was seated as president of the association. He succeeds Gilbert E. Gray of Doctors Ambulance of Kingston.

Other officers for 1969 are: Seymour Pacht, of Kerhonkson-Accord First Aid Squad, vice president; Mrs. Harriet Weber, Marbltown First Aid Squad, secretary; and Clifton Jones of the Saugerties Ambulance Service, treasurer.

New Member

The newest member of the association is the Margaretville Memorial Hospital Ambulance Corps, the first ambulance unit outside Ulster County to become members.

The Rev. Emmett B. Waite of Hyde Park, who figured in setting up a training course at Ulster County Community College to instruct members of the association in latest techniques used to remove injured people to hospitals in emergencies, was presented a bible at the dinner by the Kerhonkson-Accord First Aid Squad in appreciation for services rendered.

Retiring president, Gray, complimented officers and members of the unit for outstanding work they did in the last two-and-a-half years, and he pledged his full support to the incoming president. Gray noted that to his knowledge the Ulster Ambulance Association is the only one of its kind operating anywhere in the country. He said there is no other group which comprises such varied services. Membership includes private ambulance units, fire departments, first aid squads and rescue units and operators of community ambulance service.

Training Session

The Ulster ambulance group organized more than two years ago for the purpose of providing better ambulance service to the communities, and to set up a training course for member. This course was conducted at the Ulster Community College with the cooperation of Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals and the Ulster County Medical Society. The course was used as a pattern by the State Department of Health in setting up similar courses throughout New York State.

Other members of the county group include the Marbltown Rescue Squad, West Hurley Fire Department, Town of Shandaken Community Ambulance Service, Plattkill First Aid and Rescue Squad and the Wallkill First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Scout-O-Rama Awards Announced

The recently held Seventh Annual Scout-O-Rama of the Mohican Trail District, Rip Van Winkle Council, BSA was probably the biggest and most successful show in the series, according to John Vilet of Catskill, who served as general chairman. There was more "action" to this show than any preceding one, from both the participants and the spectators.

There were four Cub Scout Packs and 12 Boy Scout Troops, all from Greene County and Saugerties, exhibiting in this year's Scout-O-Rama, and from all accounts and overheard comments, it looked like the best one yet. Serving as judges during the afternoon were George Henke, of the Henke-Warren Agency in Coxsack; Dr. Glenn Kendall, Supt. of NYS VI in W. Coxsack and Assemblyman Clarence D. Lane from Windham.

Receiving "First Awards" as a result of the judging were: Pack 100 of Palenville; and Troop 31 of Centerville, 39 of Flatbush, and 41 of Catskill. "Second Award" ribbons were carried off by Pack 46 of Catskill and the following Troops: 36 of Saugerties, 42 of Greenville, 43 of Cairo, 45 of Coxsack, 55 of Hensonville, 130 of Saugerties and 141 of Catskill. "Third Award" was garnered by Packs 42 of Greenville and 54 of Hunter, and by Troops 32 of Saugerties and 44 of Catskill.

During the afternoon and evening Cub Scout contest events and games were conducted by Cub Roundtable Commissioners David Bright of Saugerties. The results of these contests were as follows: Pinewood Derby winners—Ricky Brooks, Troop 53; Peter Cline, Pack 32; Danny Yager, Rory France, Jeffrey Fromer, and Mark Fromer, all of Pack 54, Cub "Chinning Champs"—Jim Slobodian, Pack 36; Bruce Chargois and Jay Harris, Pack 33; Kerry Risley, Pack 54; Pat Bogert, Pack 37; Peter Gill and Mike Werking, Pack 42; Derek Stark, Pack 46; and Kevin Holmok, Pack 51.

Winners of the "Ice Block Joiners News of Fraternal and Civic Organizations"

The regular meeting of Kingston Chapter No. 155, Order of Eastern Star, will be held Friday night at the Masonic Temple. A special program has been arranged in honor of George Washington's birthday. Worshipful Brother Robert Greene assisted by the officers of Roundout Lodge 343, F&AM will deliver an address on the Masonic Life of George Washington. All Stars and Master Masons may attend. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

LAKE MINNEWASKA The lake where a large oval and a sprint lane had been cleared by a crew from Post 91 with the plow provided by the Minnewaska management. Two qualifying heats and final sprint race were followed by the distance race and hockey games.

The award ceremony was held by Erik Bruck, president of Explorer Post 91. As the contestants and officials enjoyed a hot dog roast many favorable comments of the program could be overheard along with the familiar phrase, "See you again next year." On hand with other spectators were Scout Executive Lyonsville, toboggan race, stalking event and a hike.

Members on hand for the event included Tom Krause, Russell Motsey, Tom Loughlin, Tom Wolf, Don Van Buren, Al Policastro, Tom Hermance, Jeff Lucas and Lance Cooper. Mr. Karaffa, Webelos leader and Mr. Joy were assisted by Scouts of Troop 9—Jim Cameron, Michael Joy, Robert Karaffa and Stephen Karaffa. Dave Krause, a former member of Troop 9 and an Eagle Scout home between semesters at RPI, assisted.

REASON FOR REFERENDUM — A hearing on the proposed Rhinebeck village hall-firehouse complex was held Wednesday night at the firehouse on West Market Street in order to afford residents a close-up of the inadequacies and decaying condition of the old building. The picture illustrates one point made, that the facility is crowded and that if the first engine in the picture is unable to start in an emergency, the other two could not be moved. The new complex, to be located in a more convenient location on East Market Street with quick access to all parts of the village, has been tagged at $350,000. The proposal will come before the people in a referendum next month. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Referendum Slated in Rosendale On Village Incorporated Status

By SHANE CROSBY

ROSENDALE
The Village trustees of Rosendale voted Wednesday night to place a referendum on the March 18 ballot asking if a special vote should be taken on the incorporated status of the village.

Mayor Joseph Reid called for the ballot on the question of whether the village should remain incorporated saying it was in the interest of the residents to reject or reaffirm the incorporation, whether his or another administration continued in office after the mid-March election.

Opposed By Curran
Voting is scheduled in the village on March 18 from 12 noon to 9 p. m. for the office of Mayor, Reid, a Democrat, is opposed by Republican William Curran, Attorney for the Town of Rosendale.

Reid was named by a Democratic caucus in the village held recently. Curran, defeated by the mayor two years ago by 14 votes, tossed his hat into the ring this week.

Reid also called for a "mortgage burning" celebration for the fire house, following pay-off of the bond issue in June of last year. The trustees put aside $100 for the celebration, scheduled for March 8. The village's new LaFrance pumper truck for the fire department will also be shown-off at the ceremony. No time has been set for the affair.

Curran, who attended the trustee's meeting as "a taxpayer" and not a candidate for mayor, said he was opposed to Reid's planning the celebration 10 days before the election and said "political overtones" were behind the action.

Active Hose Company No. 1 Fire Chief Albert Morelli displayed a pumper, a new piece of equipment, saying it was still "a house and not a home" having been in the village department for less than a week.

Replaces Smaller Truck
The pumper replaces a smaller truck, said by the chief to be in its mid-30s, that will be converted for use as a brush fire truck.

The fire department requested that the trustees contact the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and question them as to the use of the Rondout Creek for a water source during fires. A ramp so that the department equipment could reach water that passes by St. Peter's Church property at the south end of the community would help in any fire in that section of the Main Street area. The trustees said they would contact the Corps and the private construction company engaged in the Rondout Creek Flood Control Project to find their feelings on the matter.

Registration day for the March election was noted as being the first of that month. Residents of the village for three months who have not already registered may do so from 12 noon to 9 p. m. in the village offices. A permanent registration is in effect in the village.

'Shootout' Trial Resumes in Court

KINGSTON
Trial of Winfield W. Moore, 32, of New Paltz, who figured in a shootout with state troopers at the Happy Hour Tavern on Route 32 in Tillson on Christmas morning in 1967, resumed today before County Judge Raymond J. Mino and a jury.

Moore was indicted by the March, 1968 grand jury on charges of burglary, third degree, criminal trespass and three counts of assault.

At the time of the incident, Moore was accused by troopers of being armed with a shotgun when he allegedly broke into the tavern and subsequently notified troopers he was in the establishment. Several troopers went to the scene and surrounded the tavern as they shielded themselves behind parked patrol cars.

After a 3½-hour siege, Moore was brought down with police bullets in the legs and chest, after he allegedly fired point blank at the troopers. Assistant Dist. Atty. James H. Fisher represents the People at trial, and the defendant's counsel is Charles Saccoman.

$18,000 Haul

CATO, N.Y. (AP) — Three burglars made off with $18,000 in marked bills from a home in the nearby Cayuga County community of Ira, early Wednesday, police said.

The cash had been stashed away in a leather valise at the home of Bernard White, 57, an inspector for Carrier Corp. in Syracuse.

In Town of Warwarsing

Junk Car Elimination Successful

ELLENVILLE
The "first phase" of the Town of Warwarsing's plan to eliminate the myriad of junk cars that blot its countryside ended Wednesday, and Supervisor Frank Harkin called it "an unqualified success."

National Car Crushers, Inc. of Dallas, Tex., has moved its mammoth equipment from Kerhonkson to a site near the Accord Speedway, more than 1,000 dead automobiles, reduced to chunks of scrap iron, left with it.

"It really did my heart good to see those cars leaving town on flatbed trucks," Harkin said, "but the job is only half done. We may have gotten rid of 1,000 junk cars, but there are probably 1,000 or more still left."

"What we are going to do now is what I like to call the second phase. I've talked with William F. Koplick of the Ellenville Scrap Iron and Metal Co. and he has appeared before the town board."

"He has the facilities to destroy cars for us, although we haven't worked out any arrangements as yet. The Dallas firm didn't charge us anything for crushing the cars. We managed to complete the entire project without spending a cent of town money, but I don't know whether Koplick is equipped to dispose of the scrap metal as profitably as the other people."

"I'm going to go up to see the gentleman again so that we can work something out, and then we are going to go after the rest of those cars."

"We want to do this as nicely as possible. The third phase is probably going to have to be an ordinance of some kind, but I want the problem solved for the most part before we reach that step."

"I don't want the ordinance to solve the problem forcibly. It's going to be an inconvenience, to be sure, but I want to see that it doesn't become a burden."

"This time, of course, we may have to spend a few dollars, but in the long run I feel it's going to be worth it."

Harkin also commented on the Town Board's search for a new barn site. Since the rejection of the LaPuma site two weeks ago, he went on, the Board has visited three prospective locations and has also taken another look at the present facility on Morton Road.

"We definitely need a new barn," he said, "but if we can build it on land that we already own its naturally going to be a lot cheaper."

Harkin pointed out that the present parcel already has electrical and water service and the protection of the Ellenville Police Department.

"We certainly don't want to leave a lot of equipment around without protection," he said, "and we're going to have to consider things like this in our final decision."

Harkin noted that while a supply of sand and gravel had been a preliminary prerequisite for a site's acceptance, and indeed it was a lack of such a stockpile that caused the LaPuma rejection, this is no longer the case.

"The present parcel doesn't have the resources," he said, "but if we're going to give better service we're going to have to stockpile sand and gravel anyway — at least much better than we did last year."

"I really don't know at this point. The present site may not be suitable — it may not be large enough, for one thing. But I think the board has decided that it will be our first choice."

"We may have to resort to property purchase eventually, but not before we have considered the present parcel in its fullest aspects."

Tivoli Contender Criticizes Opponent

TIVOLI
The entrance of Mortimer F. Appel into the mayoral race in the Village of Tivoli has brought forth criticism from another contender, in the three-way contest, Robert F. Severance.

The retired General Motors executive told the Freeman that he was surprised to hear Appel criticize the village for being at a "standstill." Citing the fact that Appel has been and is a member of the village board, Severance asks, "Why didn't he recognize this before and do something about it?"

Severance, in announcing his candidacy Feb. 12 prior to Appel's based his interest in the mayoral seat on his wish to see Tivoli progress rather than decline.

He made known his intention of running shortly after the incumbent Mayor S. L. George Persinger declared his intention to seek another term. Severance charged the Persinger administration with "poor management."

Appel, when circulating his petition was reported to have said, "Things have been standing still in this town for years. It's time we showed some progress."

The County Sales Tax - Questions, Answers

KINGSTON Since the adoption of the one per cent county sales and use tax last Thursday there have been many phone calls from residents who are puzzled as to how the tax applies, who must pay and who is exempt.

After June 1, when the county tax becomes effective these will be the totals on all items now taxable under the state sales tax that has been in effect since Aug. 1, 1965.

In Kingston—State 2, City 2, County 1, for a total of 5 per cent.

In County outside city limits—State 2, County 1, for a total of 3 per cent. A person residing in the city, who purchases an item outside the city is still obligated to pay the sales tax, and if it is not paid to the vendor, he must send it with a special form to the State District Tax Office in Albany.

According to Booklet No. 2 on sales tax information published by the State Tax Department, there are specific exemptions from the tax in almost every category of sales or rental of tangible personal property and taxable services.

All food bought for home use is exempt from the tax; medical and hospital services are exempt, and the sale or rental of real property—either domestic or business—is exempt.

Most non-profit organizations are exempt if they are operated primarily for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes. However, when they regularly engage in the sale of goods or services in competition with private industry, their sales are subject to the sales tax.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Sales, Rental and Use of Tangible Personal Property
Q. Is the fuel used in heating my residence or camp taxable?
A. Yes. Purchase of all fuel except that used "directly and exclusively" in the production of goods for sale is taxable.
Q. I rent my living quarters. Will the rent I pay to the landlord be taxable?
A. No. The sales tax is not imposed on the rental of any real property, except hotel rooms occupied for 90 days or less where the charge is more than $2 a day.
Q. Is the purchase of a home taxable?
A. No. The sales tax does not apply to the sale either of new or used real property no matter whether it is residential, business or industrial.
Q. Would the purchase of furnishings for a home be taxable?
A. Yes. Any purchase of tangible personal property is subject to the sales tax, unless specifically exempted.

Q. When a cash discount is given, is the sales tax reduced?

A. No. Other types of discounts are deductible in computing the sales tax but not discounts for early payment. Likewise, interest or penalties on late payments are not subject to the tax.

Q. Will the sales tax apply to material used in building houses?

A. For all new construction or capital improvements the sales tax applies only to the materials (tangible personal property) used in construction.

Q. Will groceries, meat, vegetables or dairy products be taxed?

A. No. Most food for human consumption at home is not taxable. Candy, confectionery, soft drinks, certain fruit drinks and alcoholic beverages are taxable. So are restaurant meals costing $1 or more.

Q. Are purchases of bottled water and ice cubes taxable?

A. Yes. Water is taxable unless delivered through mains or pipes. The purchase of ice, whether by vending machine or otherwise, is taxable.

Q. Is clothing taxable?

A. Yes. Since clothing is tangible personal property, the purchase or rental of clothing is subject to the sales tax.

Q. Are funeral expenses subject to the sales tax?

A. No. The cost of funeral services is not subject to the sales tax. However, funeral directors must pay a tax on the tangible personal property they buy or use.

Q. Would the lease or rental of a car, truck, trailer, boat, garden tools or building tools be taxable?

A. Yes. The rental or lease of any tangible personal property is taxable, unless specifically exempted.

Q. Would the purchase of books or other items from a college co-op book store be taxable?

A. Yes. Sales in shops or stores operated by non-profit charitable, religious, or educational organizations are subject to tax.

Q. If a resident of New York State buys a movie camera outside New York State and brings it into the State, must he pay a sales or use tax?

A. Yes. If the out-of-State vendor does not collect the New York sales tax, the buyer must pay the use tax directly to his district tax office. (Where a sales tax has also been paid to another state or locality in that state, inquiry should be made at your district tax office as to whether credit can be claimed for the tax paid the other state or locality in that state.)

Q. If a resident of another State bought an automobile in this State, is the sale taxable?

A. No. Sales of motor vehicles to a non-resident of New York State are not subject to the sales tax, even if delivered in this State where the non-resident has no permanent place of abode in New York State and the motor vehicle will not be used in carrying on any business, employment or profession in this State. Purchases of all other tangible personal property by non-residents are taxable if delivered here, but exempt if delivered outside the State.

Q. Will a tax be payable on the purchase of a newspaper or periodical?

A. No. These purchases are specifically exempt.

Q. Are admissions to skating rinks, beaches and swimming pools taxable?

A. No. Charges for admissions to or the use of facilities for sporting activities where the patron is a participant are not subject to the tax.

Q. Would the rental of shoes at a bowling alley, or beach umbrellas at a beach or pool be taxable?

A. Yes. These items are taxable as tangible personal property, notwithstanding their use for participant sports.

Q. Is the purchase of medicine or drugs taxable?

A. No. Drugs and medicines for the cure, relief, treatment or prevention of illness or disease in humans are exempt from the tax. However, drugs and medicines for animals are taxable.

Q. Are vitamins, health foods or non-prescription medicines such as aspirin subject to the sales tax?

A. No. All of these items are exempt, even without a prescription.

Q. Are cosmetics and cosmetic supplies taxable?

A. Yes. These are not considered medicines, even though they may contain some medicinal ingredients.

Q. Are such things as artificial limbs, dentures and prescription glasses taxable?

A. No. These prosthetic aids are exempt from the tax.

'Quakes Take Toll
WASHINGTON (UPI) — More people lost their lives in earthquakes around the world last year than in any year since 1960, according to the National Earthquake Information Center. The center said 20 quakes in 13 foreign countries took 12,401 lives.

Albany Up in Air on Unruly Students

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The fate of a Senate-approved plan to take state money away from unruly college students suddenly was cast in doubt today, as Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea Jr. began backing away from it.

The powerful Republican leader, who once indicated he was willing to go along with the proposal, told The Associated Press: "I'm not wedded to that concept. I have some doubts about it."

Duryea said he wanted to "re-view the whole situation" before the Assembly acted, adding "We're not going to move too rapidly on it."

Duryea thus took indirect issue with his Senate counterpart, GOP Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, who had forced the student-discipline bill through his house over angry protests of the Democratic minority.

Tied to Demonstrations

The measure would deny state scholarship funds or scholar incentive payments to students convicted of crimes on college campuses. The object is to discourage the kind of wild demonstrations that have disrupted campuses across the nation.

When Brydges first brought up the bill, last week, Duryea said he had no particular feeling about it, one way or another, but would be willing to let it take its natural course in his house.

After the Senate approved it, however, the measure came under-attack from many quarters. State Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., soon to become U.S. education commissioner, led the parade, saying scholar aid should not be used as a disciplinary tool.

Democratic senators complained that the bill would hit hardest at the poor, since wealthy students did not need state money to pursue their education.

In the Assembly, Deputy Minority Leader Albert Blumenthal, D-Manhattan, said the bill could be defeated if left to its own devices — that is, unless Duryea went all out to insure its passage.

Duryea made his revised position known when asked how much support, if any, he would give to the measure.

Brydges and Duryea flew to Washington, D.C., Wednesday with Gov. Rockefeller after conducting relatively uneventful sessions of the Senate and Assembly that wound up the legislature's three-day work week.

Eye More Aid

Their mission in the nation's capital was to enlist New York's congressional delegation in an effort to win greatly increased federal aid for the state.

Meanwhile, the Democratic legislative leadership pursued efforts they said were designed to shield consumers from high utility costs and unscrupulous merchants.

Blumenthal, as chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Consumer Protection, issued a report contending that the State Public Service Commission's control over power utilities is a "fiasco" that is costing consumers millions of dollars annually.

Among other things, he contended that the state's electricity users pay monthly rates well above the national average and that the utilities' earnings also were at or above average.

He proposed to revamp membership of the present, all-Republican commission and to give consumers a greater voice in its workings.

Assemblyman Stanley Stein-gut and Sen. Joseph Zaretzki, the legislature's minority leaders, offered a five-bill package that would:

- Create a Consumer Protection Division in the Executive Department to represent consumers' interests.

- License shops and mechanics that repair automobiles.
- License television repairmen.
- Require credit-reporting agencies to comply with consumer requests for information on their credit rating, so that erroneous data could be corrected.
- Provide for use of generic names, rather than brand names, in filling prescriptions.

Major Tells What War Is Before Death in Vietnam

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — "War is all the horrible things a human being can do to another human being because he has not learned to love..."

These were the words of Air Force Maj. Victor Colasuonno in answer to a query from the fourth grade class at Church of the Magdalen Catholic School here, of which his son, Kenneth, is a member.

Major Colasuonno, a pilot, was killed in action last week in Vietnam where he had been assigned since June. Services were held here Wednesday. While in Vietnam he had written regularly to the school where his three sons, Kenneth, Bobby and Stephen, and daughter Patty attend. Colasuonno was stationed at McConnell Air Force Base here before going to Vietnam.

Some of the fourth grade boys had written at Christmas time and had asked, "What war is?" His answer, read to the entire school after his death: "I'll tell you what war is not."

The major wrote, "It is not a glamorous, daredevil existence where the 'good guys' always win."

"It is not a fearless fighter pilot jumping into his airplane to shoot down the enemy."

"It is not a game which you play (and which I played as a child), where you go home to a good supper and a warm bed after it is over."

"War is fought by real human beings, not Hollywood stars men like your daddy and perhaps older brothers."

"We all face a moment of truth when we must overcome our fears and do what must be done, no matter how difficult."

"War is a time of tears when we must overcome our sorrow for our fellow comrades and do what must be done, no matter how difficult."

"War is the curse of mankind because he will not listen to God's will. War is the agony of mankind because he will not love his neighbor."

If man learns to love, the major concluded his letter, "There would be no wars, for man does not hurt what he loves."

"Perhaps your generation can accomplish this—it seems that mine has failed."

"Do not allow adults to teach you to hate—for no reason and against no man."

Legislature To Be Discussed

NEW PALTZ

The Ulster County Legislature is to be the topic of a discussion at an informational night Saturday here, sponsored by the New Paltz Democrats and Roger W. Mable, legislator from Esopus-Rosendale.

Mable, a delegate to the 1969 Democratic National Convention and pledged to the late New York Senator Robert Kennedy, will join with Dr. Fred R. H. Martens, Democratic State Committeewoman, in a discussion of both state and county Democratic party activities.

Refreshments are to be served at the meeting, scheduled for the Knights of Columbus Building at the foot of Main Street in the village starting at 8:30 p. m.

Essay Contest For Flag Day

SAUGERTIES 7th and 8th grade students in the Saugerties area schools. The title of the essay should be "What the Flag of the United States of America Means to Me" in between 250 and 500 words. Each essay must be submitted with the name of the writer, home address and name of the school plus the principal's name.

This contest is open to all

All essays must be submitted to the Saugerties DAR Flag Chairman, Mrs. William Young, Lighthouse Drive, Rt. 1, Box 8, Saugerties, by March 1.

The DAR feels the purpose of this essay contest is to direct the attention of youth to the benefits of the way of life as guaranteed by the Constitution. Each pupil writing an essay will receive a recognition certificate and the winners in each grade will be presented with a suitable gift. All winning essays are sent to the state contest for judging where prizes of $50 and $25 bonds are given.

Bail Denied to 3 Students In Computer-Center Wreckage

MONTREAL (AP) — Three students who were arrested when Canadian students destroyed the million-dollar computer center at Sir George Williams University Feb. 11 were denied bail Wednesday.

Bail applications for 34 others are to be heard today, including that of Joseph Cheddi Jagan, son of Guyana opposition leader Cheddi Jagan.

Municipal Court Judge Emmett J. McManamy granted bail Wednesday to 51 others, but 26 could not post it before court offices closed. They spent their eighth night in jail. The bails ranged from $1,000 to $5,000.

Originally 90 adults and seven juveniles were arrested on charges of conspiracy to commit arson and to destroy property. Police said one person arrested was not connected with the demonstration. A woman was granted bail last Friday because she had undergone an operation recently.

Six of the seven juveniles were released to their parents after their charges were reduced to public mischief. The seventh was held for psychiatric examination.

The three students denied bail are Mark Medico, 21, Montreal and Jose Amoroso, 24, and Ian Belgrave, 23, both of Trinidad. They will remain in jail until their hearings Feb. 26.

The students had occupied the ninth-floor computer center to protest the makeup of a university committee investigating charges of racism against an assistant biology professor by six West Indian students.

At one point, McManamy stopped the proceedings to have the Rev. A. Kendall Smith, from New York City's Harlem, ejected from the courtroom. Smith was distributing leaflets calling for the immediate release of the students.

Of the 89 accused, 41 are Negroes. Twenty-four came from Caribbean countries. D525aes Feb 20

Speaker Named For Bank Meet

POUGHKEEPSIE

The February dinner meeting of the Bank Administration Institute will be held tonight, at the Red Bull Inn, Poughkeepsie, at 7 p.m.

John C. Loufman, manager, Management Advisory Services, Price Waterhouse & Company, Buffalo, will speak on the subject "Auditing the EDP Function."

Loufman is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and holds a B.S. degree in Business Administration.

He joined Price Waterhouse, Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1957 as an Electronic Data Processing specialist, and was later transferred to the Buffalo office.

As a manager in the firm's Management Advisory Services Department, he has responsibility for EDP consulting assistance to clients and non-clients in the Western New York area. In this role, he has worked with banks, public utilities and industrial organizations, having conducted computer feasibility studies and developed and implemented punch-card and computer systems.

Penn Central Under Attack On Passengers

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—The Penn Central Railroad was criticized Wednesday by state regulatory agencies in both New York and Connecticut for inadequacies in its passenger service.

Chairman James A. Lundy of the New York State Public Service Commission said he would file a suit in Supreme Court against the line for failing to maintain adequate service. The suit specifically refers to Train 70, which left Buffalo Feb. 10 at 6:30 a.m., arrived at Rochester at 7:30 a.m., and after routine maintenance, left Rochester one hour and 20 minutes late.

Connecticut Public Utilities Commission Chairman Eugene S. Loughlin told a hearing in Hartford that the Penn Central operating schedule was a "disgrace."

The Connecticut commission's chief engineer, Kenneth Faust, said that between Feb. 2 and Feb. 17 trains between New Haven and Hartford ran as much as one hour and 45 minutes late.

State Accepts Rensselaer's Planning Bid

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Rensselaer County's application for a $29,719 planning program has been accepted by the State Office of Planning Coordination, Governor Rockefeller announced today.

The request will be forwarded to the federal government, which would pick up two-thirds of the cost or $19,812. The state and county share the remaining $9,907 cost.

The one-year project will be the second phase of a three-part program to develop a master plan.

New Fashions

The J. C. Penney Co. Department Store at 318 Wall Street, has significantly broadened its merchandise offerings to customers by opening a catalog sales desk, according to Glenn Stampfle, who said copies of current major catalogs are now available.

Orders from the catalog will be filled within 72 hours from the company's catalog distribution center. Stampfle said a combination of high-speed communications to the center and air delivery to this area will make possible quick filling of orders. As soon as an order is placed at the store, either by telephone or in person, it will be relayed to the center through electronic transmission. There will be daily deliveries of merchandise.

Penney's entered the catalog business in 1962, when it acquired General Merchandise Company of Milwaukee. The first "all-Penney" catalog was issued in August, 1963. Penney's issues two major catalogs each year, covering fall and winter and spring and summer of that year. Timely smaller catalogs and tabloids are issued each season. In addition to fashion apparel and shoes for the whole family, merchandise includes home furnishings, sporting goods, paints, hardware, television, small appliances and automotive supplies.

Country Wife

By DOROTHY VAN DOREN

When the papers aren't delivered for several days — as recently they were not — a compulsive newspaper reader like myself ought to learn something: The news does not change much.

After four days with no news the Sirhan trial in Los Angeles drags wearily on as does the Shaw trial in New Orleans. The Mid-East crisis is still critical. Another plane has been hijacked. There is trouble in West Berlin. The Sentinel missile defense will cost more than was expected. And the International Longshoremen's Union is still on strike.

We could have read all this yesterday and it is likely that we shall read it tomorrow. Why, then, do so many of us feel lost without the daily paper? The TV news, even the long broadcast at 6 p.m. ending with Walter Cronkite or Huntley-Brinkley and certainly not the snippets we get at 11 p.m., does not begin to take its place. I like to sit down with the paper in my hands and read first the headlines, then the subheads, then, if it looks interesting, the whole story down to the end of the carryover on page 23.

The reading matter I should like to have on a desert island would be the New York Times delivered daily. By carrier pigeon maybe and only as a last resort on microfilm.

And speaking of microfilm, there are all sorts of plots against the book as we know it being hatched in certain quarters. I have heard microfilm enthusiasts prophesy that in a quarter of a century there will be no more books except those that may still exist in the libraries of old fogies like me. Everything will be on tape, everybody will have his own little projector, in the public library, in the home, in the waiting rooms of airports, in the dentist's outer office.

I don't expect to live to see it and I am not sorry. I like books just as I like newspapers. I like to run my hands over the bindings, turn the pages, put a hairpin or may glasses case in the page to mark it if I am called away. I like to look down the room and see a well-filled bookcase, red bindings and blue, green and white, black and brown, tin books, fat books, books leaning a little, pushed in too far, and even upside down.

It doesn't matter, as I have just learned, that the news is not fresh, just as it doesn't matter that the book is an old friend, read years ago and still conso's. Pennsylvania, they will reward. To read is wonderful. You have only to watch a

West Hurley School Students Enjoy Artistic 'Light' Display

VISUAL ARTS DEMONSTRATION — Billy Faier (R) local folk singer and artist of High Woods who is interested in the artistic use of light as a new medium in the area of visual arts, has created numerous "light boxes" which he demonstrated to the sixth grade students at West Hurley School on Monday, Feb. 17. Mrs. Anthony Robinson (L) chairman of the P.T.A. Cultural Arts committee, has arranged many programs for the West Hurley Elementary School. Among them this year have been a visit to Sylvia Hutchins' ceramic studio; an informal discussion with Anthony Robinson, author and assistant professor at State University at New Paltz; and a trip to Woodstock Guild to view an art exhibit. Also pictured here are Sharon Duffy and Joseph Hollyday. (Freeman photo by Haines).

"Charge it." The latest way to travel. Credit card travel helps you go now while you can, and pay for it later. No longer are you stuck in the same old routine because you don't have the cash on hand. And credit card travel enables you to travel with less cash, so there is less chance of loss. Some credit card companies even have travel clubs; you put in a little money each week or month and at the end of the year your vacation is completely paid for. Don't say "we just can't afford it" ... and go. Have a wonderful time.

Wagner College Choir Performed Here Saturday, Feb. 15, for 350 People

Contrary to an article for the current tour were being published in The Freeman on Tuesday, Feb. 18, the Wagner College Choir will not be in Kingston this Saturday. It was here on Saturday, Feb. 15 at the Trinity Lutheran Church, long-planned tour. Each concert on the tour took on the aura of a memorial to the beloved Dr. Steen and his work in developing a choir of the finest quality. The young conductor did a splendid job on the 21-city tour.

More than 350 music lovers crowded the church for the concert sponsored jointly by Trinity Lutheran, the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, St. Paul's Lutheran Church and Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church.
Dr. Walter Bock, director of church-college relations, spoke briefly about the conduct of the young people on the tour. He had nothing but "high praise" for them. Families in the area who housed the choir members also commented on the fine character of the students.
Dr. Sigvard J. Steen, who led the choir to rave press notices in his 20 years as director, died last December, as preparations

Look Here Homemaker

Household use of frozen vegetables increased 35 per cent from 1955 to 1965, according to the Household Food Consumption Survey of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Frozen vegetables are one of the fastest growing segments of the frozen food industry, says Lou K. Breitung, Extension Home Economist. Variety is one reason that frozen vegetables have gained so rapidly. A whole new line of prepared vegetables, that is combinations of vegetables and sauces, are now available to consumers. The number of new vegetable dishes is likely to continue to increase. Sales of prepared frozen vegetables grow in value at a rate of about 20 per cent annually.

Communion Breakfast Speaker Is Named

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute FINISHING CHILDREN'S UNEATEN MEAL

Dear Mrs. Post: When we dine out our children often leave part of their dinner or dessert. Is it impolite for my husband or me to exchange plates and finish the meal ourselves?—Kay Jesner.

Dear Mrs. Jesner: Exchanging plates with your children and eating off their unfinished ones may be thrifty but it is not the right thing to do.

at a restaurant. There is nothing wrong with your transferring a lamb chop, a leg of chicken or perhaps a half a sandwich or helping of French fried potatoes. And of course you may certainly serve yourself food remaining in a separate serving dish. However, to eat off someone else's used plate—even your child's—is incorrect.

Parents Pay Daughter's Fare
Dear Mrs. Post: The parents of our daughter's fiancé have not met our daughter. They have invited her to fly with them to Maui for Easter vacation. Should the boys' parents pay for everything? My husband feels that we should pay the plane fare. But how to do this tactfully when they will be making the arrangements—Mrs. E.

Dear Mrs. E.: Your husband is right. Write and thank the boy's parents for issuing such a lovely invitation. Ask them to let you know the name of the airline and the flight so that you may buy her ticket. Oh, if they have already made the reservations, ask them to let you know the amount of the fare and tell them that you wish to reimburse them. There is no need to be embarrassed. This is the accepted procedure when a girl visits a man.

Thirtieth Anniversary

Dear Mrs. Post: Our parents will observe their thirtieth anniversary soon and we would like to give a party for them. The traditional gift for the thirtieth year is pearl. Would it be wrong to invite guests to a "pearl anniversary" as you would to a "Silver Anniversary"?—Diana.

Dear Diana: Silver Anniversaries and Golden Anniversaries are so widely celebrated that everyone knows and uses those terms. A "Pearl Anniversary" sounds rather odd. "A Thirtieth Anniversary" would be in better taste. Also, you do not want to imply that friends are expected to bring pearl gifts.

For suggestions about to whom, when, how and what to give, you will find my booklet "Gifts and Giving" most helpful. To get a copy, send twenty-five cents in coin to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. (C) 1969, Emily Post Institute

Long Island Aggies Shade UCCC, 74 to 73

TWO CAN TANGO — Detroit's Nick Libett (14) and New York's Brad Park get into a tangle fighting for that elusive puck during hockey game at Madison Square Garden. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

FARMINGDALE
Big Ed McGinley's deuce with 52 seconds left to play gave Farmingdale CCC (Long Island Aggies) a 74-73 squeaker over Ulster County Community College in a non-league contest here Wednesday night.

The loss may have been a big blow to Ulster's hopes of receiving a bid to the Regional XV tournament scheduled here on Feb. 27-28.

However Coach Mike Perry, who saw his scoring ace Jerry Moss turn stone cold in the second half, was inclined to pass off the setback as a tough loss that would not materially hurt the Senators' chances.

"This is a non-league game," he said, "and the Aggies can beat anybody here. They proved it by taking Nassau, which already has been invited to the Regionals."

Moss, who collected 13 points, scored only three in a see-saw second half. The teams were deadlocked 40-40 at the half after Ulster broke to a 8-2 lead at the outset and then scrambled back from a six-point deficit to even the count at 40-40.

With 1:21 left to play, the Aggies led 72-70. Gary Kirkwood, who led UCCC with 23 points and played a brilliant second half, shaved the Aggies lead to 72-71 with a free throw and at 1:03 Charlie Moore sent Ulster ahead, 73-72.

Eleven seconds later, McGinley, Aggies' high scorer with 25 points, drilled the shot that put Farmingdale ahead to stay.

UCCC moved downcourt after the McGinley's deuce. Mike Derrenbacher, normally a sure-handed dribbler, lost possession and the ball rolled out of bounds. The Aggies stalled for several seconds before Ulster regained possession with four seconds, but it was too late to work a shot.

Ulster got a bad blow when Ray Lindhorst, one of its top rebounders, turned his ankle with nine minutes left to play in the half. After treatment he was able to return to action but suffered another spill and missed most of the second half.

Six of the Farmingdale players were in double figures. Runerup to McGinley was Dave Peterson with 15 points. Mike Baltimore had 12 and Tom Quinn, sensational of the UCCC Holiday Festival, bucketed 11.

Lindhorst tied Moss with 13 points despite limited action and Derrenbacher added 10.

Kingston High Overpowers Arlington

KINGSTON
On to Newburgh, is the battle cry at Kingston High, following the Maroon's impressive 94-63 trouncing of Arlington in a non-league contest Wednesday night at the Kate Walton Field House.

And there was additional joy in the Maroon camp! Gene Bruno played briefly after missing several games because of an incredible string of injuries and illness. He was in the game about five minutes, didn't score and still looked weak. But Coach Gilligan is undoubtedly planning to let him see more action against the Goldbacks at Newburgh.

Coach Jack Gilligan's taller and stronger Maroons dominated the boards but got surprising resistance from the Admirals in the first quarter who hardly looked like a team that came to town with a 3-11 record.

Strong performances by Werner Kollin, a steady player of late, in the first half and Greg Rios' second half blitz made the going easy for the Maroons. Kollin racked up 19 points for the night and got 17 of them in the first half. He also finished the game with 13 rebounds, high on the team. Ted Wood, who cannaed 18 points, picked off 11 rebounds. Kollin devastated the Admirals with follow-up shots in the early going.

Rios, hitting a seasonal high of 21 points to lead the team, picked up 16 in the second half and was five for six from the free throw line, to go with seven rebounds.

Kollin hit 80 per cent from the field (8 for 10); Rios was 57 per cent (8 for 14) and Wood 54 per cent (7 for 13) and 54 per cent. The only sub-par performance for Kingston was turned in by Ken Gilligan, who has been fighting a bad cold the last few days.

A hot hand by Mark Hinsch, a sharpshooting junior saved the Admirals from complete disaster. Hinsch scored a career high total of 27 points with 16 in the first half and 11 in the second half when he drilled seven free throws. Eleven of the Admirals' 15 points in the fourth quarter came from the free throw line.

The game pattern set in at and another by Rios at the point quarters. They missed by one point in the finale.

Onteora Bids for UCAL Title

BOICEVILLE
Two games up, with two left to play, Ontario Central's re-surgent Indians make their bid for the Ulster County Athletic League (UCAL) basketball title when they host New Paltz tonight.

The game is being played to night as part of a schedule change agreed upon when the 1968-69 UCAL slate was adopted.

Coach Rod Patrick's squad has proved itself in the clutch everytime it had to this season and the Ontario rooters expect them to behave the same tonight.

Onteora trounced New Paltz, 59-45, on the Huguenot boards early in the season but this of itself does not insure another OCS victory.

"At this stage of the season, nothing is predictable," said Coach Rod Patrick, who could be a winner in his first season at the helm for Onteora.

Onteora has patterned its victories around the brilliant floor work and shooting of Steve Kimmel, the fine rebounder for the Indians, and blocking of League (UCAL) basketball shots by Big Bob Klementis and from Paul Pettinato, Marty Gahan, Johnny Stelcen, Dennis Gale and Ed Mercner.

Unlike most high school championship teams, Onteora does not have one explosive scorer. It relies, rather, on ball control, sensible shooting and a rugged defense.

The showdown victory against Rondout Valley on the Boiceville boards a few weeks ago was the result of sang froid foul shooting, tremendous ball control and shooting under pressure. It was the same against Marlboro.

The Indians have lost only one game while winning 15 this season.

The battle plan for tonight's game with the Huguenots calls for victory and it's going to take quite a team to deny the Indians the win they need to take all the marbles.

Bruins Losing Big Firepower

By United Press International
The Boston Bruins apparently have lost their firepower along with their manpower.

Boston has terrorized the National Hockey League with brute strength this season and climbed to the top of the East Division recently with an 18-game unbeaten string. The Bruin muscle asserted itself by leading the league in penalty minutes as well as in goals scored.

But a series of injuries, plus a two-game suspension to the NHL's leading scorer, Phil Esposito, has proved costly to the Bruins and on Wednesday night they suffered their third consecutive loss, a 3-0 whitewash to the lowly Pittsburgh Penguins. The shutout was registered by substitute goalie Joe Daley, his first in the NHL.

Missing along with Esposito from the Boston lineup were Bobby Orr, Derek Sanderson, John McKenzie, Gary Doak and Tom Webster.

The Bruins nevertheless managed to retain a first-place tie with Montreal as the Canadiens lost to Toronto 5-1.

The Western Division leading St. Louis Blues remained 23 points ahead of runnerup Oakland by beating the Philadelphia Flyers 3-1 while the Seals disposed of Chicago 5-2. In other games Wednesday night, the New York Rangers and Detroit Red Wings played to a 1-1 tie and the Minnesota North Stars defeated the Los Angeles Kings 7-4.

Ron McCreary scored two goals and Lou Angotti one as the Penguins chalked up their first ever home ice victory over Boston. The Bruins, who have registered only two goals in their last three games, took 41 shots but Daley stopped them all in accounting for Pittsburgh's first shutout of the season. Daley was subbing for Les Binkley, out with the flu.

Brian Perry scored three goals and Norm Ferguson two for all of the Oakland goals against Chicago; New York's Phil Goyette and Detroit's Dean Prentice traded second-period goals to account for that tie and Minnesota raised its home record to 10-1-1 against Los Angeles despite a three-goal hat trick by the Kings' Eddie Joyal.

Rhinebeck Drops 11th

MILLBROOK
Millbrook Central's Harlem Valley Section powerhouse trounced Rhinebeck Central, 66-37, here Wednesday.

Mike Eaves, the HVS' top scorer, paced the visitors with 20 points. Kevin Lang bucketed 19 and Guy Farrington hit 11. Rifenburgh's 9 paced Rhinebeck and Kloss added eight.

It was the 11th loss in 15 starts for the Rhinebeckers, who are still in contention for second place in the Hudson Valley Section of the Dutchess County Scholastic League. The issue will be decided Friday when Rhinebeck travels to Pine Plains.

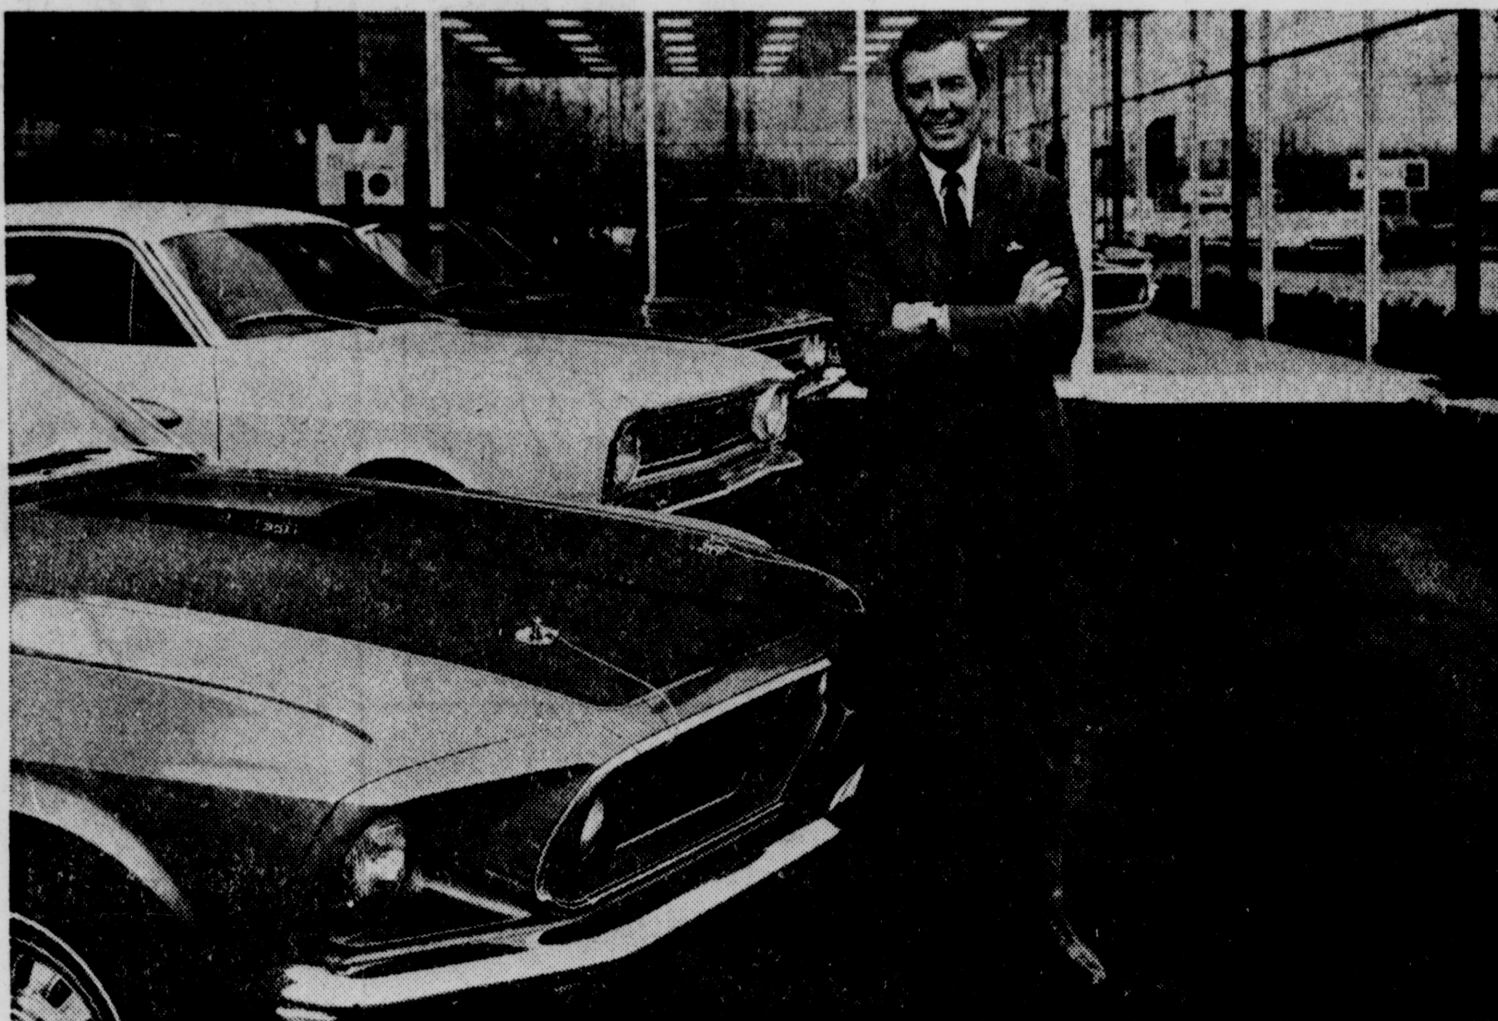

The score:

Millbrook (66)	Rhinebeck (37)

Kingston Dunks Comets, 66-29

FALLSBURG enjoyable afternoon for the Mike O'Hara set a new school record in the 100 yard backstroke, as Kingston High captured 9 of 11 events to drub homestanding Fallsburg Central, 66-29, and clinch second place in the DUSO Swim League here Wednesday.

O'Hara shaved four tenths of a second off his own Maroon mark with a 1:08.1 clocking.

Coach Ron Gabriele's Big Three — Craig Murray, John Brinnier and Gene Gruner — scored their daily doubles and the 400 yard freestyle relay quartet wrapped up a highly Maroon swimmers. The winning relay squad consisted of Al DeForest, O'Hara, George Schonger and Pete Helmich.

Murray picked up his double in the 100 yard breaststroke (1:12.8) and the 200 yard individual medley relay (2:25.4). Brinnier won the 200 freestyle (2:07.5) and 400 yard freestyle (4:41.2).

Gruner hiked his seasonal point total of 75 with a win in the 50 yard freestyle (24.1) and 100 yard freestyle which he did in 53.8 seconds.

The victory put Kingston over the 500 mark for all meets with five wins and four losses. The locals are 3-2 in the DUSO League which has been won by Newburgh Academy, undefeated in five league starts. Middletown is 1-3 and Fallsburg completed its league season with a 1-5 standard.

Coach Gabriele was highly pleased with Kingston's performance in the diving event where Mark Ohlson and Williams gave the locals a 1-2 finish, a rather rare achievement for the Maroons, who have been traditionally weak in that spot.

"I'm pleased with the way the divers have come along," said

Gabriele. "We've reached the point where we don't have to concede anything in that department."

Fallsburg picked up its two victories in the opening 200 yard medley relay and the 100 butterfly won by Robert Halchak.

TIANO'S TOPICS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

The Kingston Bowling Association has an internal ruckus on its hands in connection with the just completed association championships.

A note of caution to the men responsible for making the decision in this unhappy incident: Get it cleared up as quickly as possible, fairly and equitably.

I firmly believe that justice delayed is justice denied. There are too many versions of the ruckus, too many distortions and exaggerations being bruited about inside and outside bowling circles.

Any prolongation of such talk could seriously damage the reputation of all parties involved.

No bowlers should be denied prize money he has rightfully won on the lanes. On the other hand, proper disciplinary action should be taken against any person who willfully misrepresents his average in a tournament.

MIKE DEMICCO, owner of DeMico Motors of Kingston, was one of more than 3,200 Dodge dealers throughout the country, who participated in the NBC Television Network's second annual "Academy of Professional Sports Awards" last night.

"I'm very proud to have been associated with the show," said Mike. "It is the only one which honors outstanding pro athletes in major American sports."

Athletes who were honored by the Academy were chosen by their players in the American and National football leagues; American and National baseball leagues; National Basketball Association, National Hockey League, golf and horse racing.

If you caught the hijinks on your homeside set, you are aware of the high powered cast that took part in the presentations. People like Haquel Welch, Perry Como, Jack Benny, Danny Kaye, Art Linkletter and a few others.

Mike was on hand for the show and loved it all.

THERE MUST BE a message in Saugerties High's surprise 59-52 victory over Red Hook on the Dutchess county boards.

If you examine the Red Hook record, you'll find they won 15 games and lost only three—to Ontario, Rondout and now Saugerties.

Conceivably, the Hookers, absolute monarchs of the Hudson Valley section of the DCSL could have dropped both ends of their home and home series with Rondout and Ontario, they were that close. Coach Buddy Smith's Sawyers, who have been finding victories elusive in the A section of the DCSL, blitzed the Raiders by a wider margin than the score would indicate.

Maybe the message is this: when a high school basketball team, even one as good as Red Hook goes out of its class, it can expect trouble.

A Class B team can beat a Class A team once in a while. But over the long haul, the A's will prevail.

TOP COLLEGIATE skiing teams in New York State will gather at West Point Saturday and Sunday, when Army hosts the annual West Point Invitational Ski Meet.

Teams from Syracuse, Clarkson, RPI, Cortland, Cornell and other upstate New York schools will compete in the two-day affair at the Academy's Victor Constant slope.

In their first campaign as an intercollegiate sport at the Academy, Army skiers have piled threat to the more established teams. In their very first meet, the Cadets, paced by Nordic competitors Lyle Nelson, Chuck Thompson and Bill Terrell, walked away with both Nordic events as well as the team trophy at the Western Division III Championships at Cortland.

If you haven't seen the Academy's arc-lit slopes where Cadets frolic of an evening, it's a dazzling spectacle. It is nestled on the approaches to the academy, like a jeweled setting in a crown that would be the Bear Mountain complex. Proving that the Army does take care of its own.

And why not? Any youngster who is willing to subject to the rigors of four years at the academy deserves the best.

RICHARD (DICK) CASE, who was once athletic director at the Kingston YMCA, is the new president of the International Babe Ruth Baseball program. A native of Amsterdam, N. Y., where he started his BR career as a manager in the Amsterdam league, Case was named head of the BR Headquarters staff in 1961. Under his administrative guidance, the program has seen steady growth and success. The 1969 Babe Ruth World Series will be held in August at Mattson, Illinois, deep in the heart of the Land of Lincoln.

YMCA LEAGUE has announced that in a precedent-shattering move, it will permit Joe Uhl to take over the points racked up by Jake Senor, whom Joe replaces on the Premier Rest squad. All Joe has to do now is to maintain the 30-plus figure compiled by Jake.

Pension Dispute Sizzling

NEW YORK (AP) — The major league players' boycott counsel for the Association, said player representatives did not think the new offer significant enough to submit to the membership.

The Association is asking a $6.5 million pension package. Moss also said a few players were expected to report to spring training, but reaffirmed the Association belief that the great majority of players, including the big stars, would not sign contracts or report until the dispute is settled.

But among those who were signed up today was Jarvis, Atlanta's top pitcher last season with a 16-12 record. Knuckler Phil Niekro, another Braves' starter, indicated he might report within the next few days.

However, Braves' slugger Hank Aaron stuck with the boycott.

"It's the principle of the thing," he said. "I can't sign until it is settled. These are the people I play with."

Seaver, an All-Star with the New York Mets last year, said he had not signed and would not report today at St. Petersburg, Fla., but added "I will play this season whether the dispute is settled or not."

Earlier in the day the player representatives had overwhelmingly turned down the latest proposal by the owners to hike the pension $1.2 million to $5.3 million.

The players had rejected a previous $1 million increase by a big margin and Dick Moss,

Lead in YMCA To Aero Lake

KINGSTON Aero Lake Airport rallied from a first half deficit and went on to trounce Ulster Plaza 82-62 and take over sole possession of first place in the YMCA Basketball League. The teams were tied with 5-0 records going into the game.

In other Y action, Conlin Oil breezed past the Colts, 87-59 for a 2-3 record. Colts are now 1-5.

Leading 16-11 at the quarter, the Essos ran off seven straight points to forge ahead 23-11 and force the Flyers to call time out.

Something happened in that time out discussion among the five Aero Lakers (they used only five). For the remainder of the second quarter (5:55 seconds) and for 1:30 of the third quarter, the superb Aero Lake defense didn't give up a point. The Flyers went ahead 31-23 before Ulster scored again, giving Aero Lake an unbroken string of 20 points.

Leon Hanna led Aero Lake with 27 points and blocked several shots. Len Beck added 16. Charlie Lay drilled 16 points and Bill Boines had 15 for the Essos.

George Barned paced Conlin Oil with 20 points and Ricky Johnson and Dennis Klonowski added 19 each. Don Cambell of Colts took game honors with 21 points.

Aggies Pin 4th Defeat On UCCC

FARMINGDALE — Long Island Aggies powerful wrestling squad pinned the fourth defeat of the season on Ulster County Community College, 30-3, here Wednesday night.

Ulster's only victory came in the 145 pound match where Rich Oakley decisively pinned Paul Fogelsburg, 14 to 4.

Coach Mark Cranfield's two other stars—Tim Shea and Rich Freeman—went down to defeat. Freeman dropped a 6-2 decision to Wayne Hoffman in the 177-pound feature and Shea was edged by Paul Terembes in the 123-pound opener.

"We should have won both of those matches and several others that were really close," said Coach Cranfield. "In several cases we had time to rally but couldn't do it."

Jerry Quast of the Aggies pinned Ulster's Tom McGowan in 3:06 of the heavyweight feature.

UCCC, now 7 and 4 on the season, engaged in the Region XV tourney Friday and Saturday at Dutchess Community College.

The results:

UCCC 3, FARMINGDALE 30

123—Paul Terembes (F) dec. Tim Shea, 5-4

130—George Brady (F) dec. Rich Teetsel, 10-4

Stash Will Head Shooting Club

KINGSTON

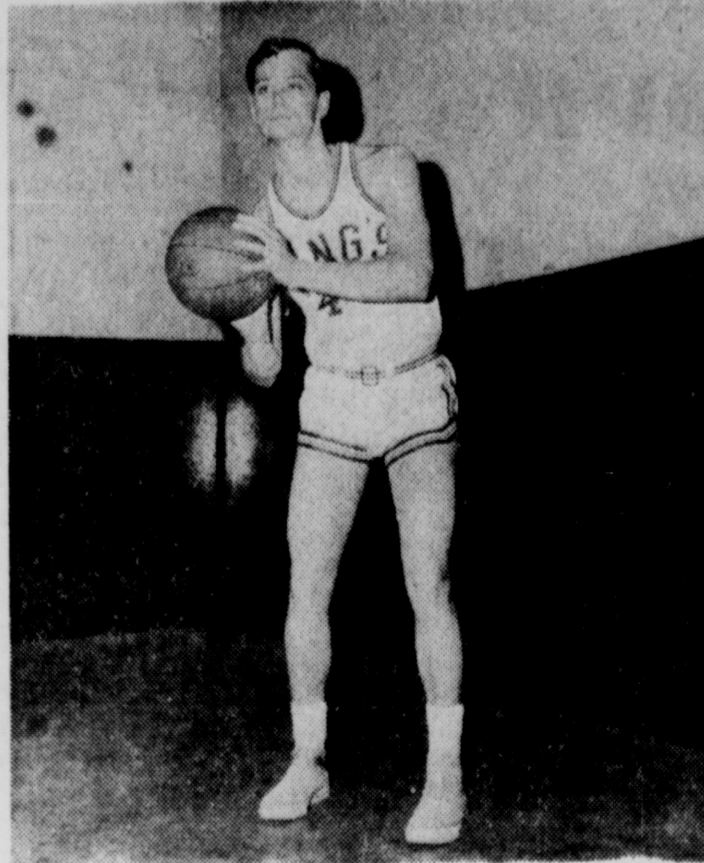

Thomas Stash has been elected president of the Kingston Rifle and Pistol Club. Robert DenBleyker was named vice-president; George Seymour, secretary, and Hugh Helsey, treasurer, in the annual election meeting held at the home of DenBleyker in Hurley.

William Coler was elected executive officer. Named to two-year terms as directors were Ferdinand Guerra and Frank Steltz. One-year directors are Charles Benkert and Phillip Siggia, who was also named public relations director.

Frank Steltz was named team captain.

Plans for a Family Day the last weekend in September were among the programs discussed for the 1969 season. A schedule for rifle and pistol matches and firearms training programs for men and women will be announced later. Plans were also made for the completion of the club's new outdoor range, for rifle and pistol, at Saugerties. All persons interested in competitive or fun shooting are invited to visit the club's facilities at the municipal auditorium or may call Phillip Siggia of St. Remy for additional information.

BRUCE GILLIGAN IN KING'S UNIFORM

Bruce Gilligan Clicks at Kings

Former Kingston High school star, Bruce Gilligan, gets a shot at big-time basketball here Saturday night when King's College's freshman team opposes the mighty Villanova yearlings at 6:30 p.m. The game will be the opener of a twin-bill, with the King's varsity playing the Cadets of the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy in the feature.

King's varsity was 11-10 and the frosh team was 9-7 Monday, prior to meeting the teams of Philadelphia Textile at King's.

Gilligan carried a 17.2 point average into the Textile game, ranking him second in King's scoring behind Roland Carpenter of Connecticut, a 6-6 graduate of Power Memorial High School in New York City, who is averaging 19.3.

The King's freshman team is coached by Jack Cryan, former Rider College star, in his initial year as a college coach. The varsity quintet is headed by Ed Dononue, former freshman coach at Niagara University.

"Bruce has certainly come a long way since the opening of the season," Frosh Coach Cryan commented. "He has learned the transition from high school to college ball and could be a help to our varsity as a sophomore. In addition to his scoring ability, he is averaging eight rebounds a game."

Davidson, Tarheels Saved By Heroics

By United Press International — A tipin and a free throw were the difference Wednesday night as last-second heroics by Rusty Clark and Mike Maloy saved the nation's third and fourth-ranked college basketball teams.

Clark's tipin with two seconds left capped a come-from-behind effort for the third-ranked Tarheels and gave them an 88-86 triumph over Maryland.

Maloy's free throw with three seconds remaining enabled Davidson to tie Duke 80-80 at the end of regulation time and the Wildcats went on to score all eight points of overtime for an 88-80 triumph.

It was a busy night for the ranked clubs with six of the top 11 teams in action. Two of them, fifth-ranked LaSalle and 10th-ranked Duquesne met in a showdown with LaSalle recording an 85-71 triumph.

Seventh-ranked St. John's rolled past Syracuse 71-63 and 11th-ranked South Carolina edged Furman 65-63.

North Carolina fell behind Maryland 28-8 before Maryland DePaul beat St. Bonaventure 72-66-44, narrowing the gap to 43-36 at 71 in overtime. Cincinnati halftime. North Carolina forged trounced Dayton 96-60, and into an 84-81 lead with 3:11 left Marshall edged Toledo 85-83.

before Maryland came back to tie the game 86-86. North Carolina then set up a play with Dick Grubar taking a 15-footer. He missed it but Clark, who scored only 10, tipped in the rebound. Charlie Scott scored 26 before North Carolina.

Maloy scored 28 points to pace Davidson including the free throw that forced the game into overtime. Dick Devenzio paced Duke with 28.

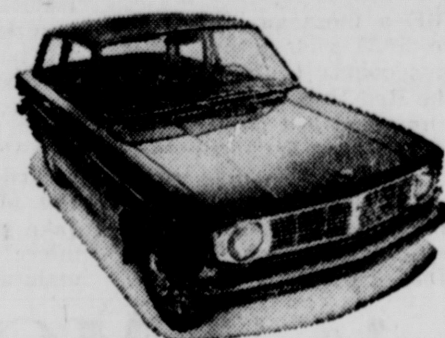

Ken Burrett scored 26 points and Larry Cannon added 24 as LaSalle ripped Duquesne while end of regulation time and the recording its 13th straight win. Barry Nelson had 15 for Duquesne.

John Warren scored 20 points to pace St. John's to the triumph over Syracuse. The 11 teams in action. Two of them, fifth-ranked LaSalle and 10th-ranked Duquesne met in a showdown with LaSalle recording an 85-71 triumph.

Dear Abby

Wife Deserved Truth

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune - N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Due to a serious illness during my childhood, I was advised that I could never have any children. Physically, things aren't any different with me than with other men, and my condition has been kept a secret between me and my parents.

I was married two years ago to a beautiful, outgoing girl. She never mentioned anything about having a family, so I saw no reason to tell her about the way things are with me.

Well, she is now pregnant, and makes believe that I am the father, but I know different. My mother says if my wife doesn't tell me who the father is, SHE will ask her.

Of course I would like to get things straightened around with my wife, but I don't know how to handle it.

Should I go on pretending to believe the baby is mine? What if my mother says something to my wife even after I warn her not to?

I love my wife, but I am sure bewildered.

NO NAME, NO TOWN

DEAR NO NAME: First go to a doctor (urologist, if possible.) Men have been known to father children after having been told they were unable. If the child can't possibly be yours, YOU tell your wife the whole story, and ask her to tell you HERS. And tell your mother to stay out of it.

(P.S. It's not to your credit elsewhere.)

to have married the girl without having told her of your condition.)

DEAR ABBY: There is this man in whom I could be very much interested, but he has one outstanding fault. He talks about himself all the time.

He is nice looking, successful in his business and is very good company, but he doesn't wait for a person to finish a sentence before he jumps in and turns the conversation around to himself and his accomplishments. Is there some way I can tell him about it so he could correct it? He'd make a good catch.

"MYRA" DEAR MYRA: First, get him to listen by enumerating his admirable qualities, then tell him he'd be practically perfect if his "I's" weren't so close together. If he makes no effort to improve, forget him. He's not as good a catch as you think.

DEAR ABBY: Do you have any male readers who will give me their honest opinion?

I was taught that the most precious gift a woman could give to the man she loved and married was having kept her body just for him; that he would respect and honor her for having waited.

More and more I'm accused of being "Victorian." Just recently a man told me, "You've got to wise up for your own good. If you don't give a man what he wants, he'll go elsewhere."

Even the man whom I recently loved deeply said he not ugly. What is a man's thought that after a half dozen opinion?

dates, sex was in order.

I believe the proper setting for sex is love and marriage. This way it is something sacred and meaningful. There is a real commitment on both sides, not just a satisfying of one's appetite temporarily — until the next time.

I am not a young provincial lass tied to her mother's apron strings. I am 41 and have been completely "on my own" since 17. I've lived in many large American cities and several foreign countries, and have been exposed to all kinds of tempting social situations. I am romantic and sensitive and I'm WAITING DEAR WAITING: Well, we shall see. Men?

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY

February 21, 1969

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Details connected with money come to forefront. Be aware of accounts, debts, obligations. Gain indicated if you are a shrewd observer. Don't get careless. Smooth talker is up to no good.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): You express anxiety about changes. Lunar position emphasizes personality, moodiness. Realize you can handle any challenge. Cycle is high. Events, circumstances favor you efforts.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Some who lack confidence could try to dissuade you from goal. Key is to maintain alliances with co-workers, associates. Search for motives. All is not what it appears on surface.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): A friend may be well-meaning but misinformed. Obtain hint from GEMINI message. Don't be distracted from basic purpose. Have fun tonight, but avoid extravagance. Romantic interlude is indicated.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Attend to business, career responsibilities. Your reputation may be on the line. Act in authoritative manner. Definite gain indicated, including promotion. You are due for reward.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Exercise tact where in-laws are concerned. Dealings emphasized with those at a distance. Accent on strengthening of personal philosophy. Gain shown through written word.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Utilize assets. Not wise to wait for others to do something for you. Key is to be self-reliant. Check accounts. Have money talk with mate, partner. Plug loophole leading to waste.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Co-operate with those who share your interests. Be aware of public relations. Permit others to express and carry out views. Lie low. Wait and observe. Gather information. Check legal aspects.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Avoid scattering forces. Social life picks up. Reunion indicated. Celebrate—but do so with moderation. Don't break health rules. Remember resolution concerning diet.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Greater freedom indicated. Personal magnetism soars; opposite sex is attracted. You are center of attention at any gathering tonight. Don't permit impulse to push logic aside.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Settle affairs at home. Be specific. Thorough approach brings results. Family member deserves special consideration. Check property. Don't neglect essentials.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20): Travel may be necessary. But don't disappoint one close to you. Remember gift, special occasion. Some relatives are very sensitive today. Know this and respond in gracious manner.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are bright, sensitive; when you word is pledged, you mean it. Element of luck, which had deserted, makes dramatic return. Surprise due which helps financially.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for TAURUS, GEMINI, CANCER. Special word to SCORPIO: marriage area of solar horoscope is emphasized.

Winners Play Percentages

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

We can't give full approval to South's three no-trump call. Somehow or other, when we pick up two good four-card major suits, we like to bid at least one of them at some stage of the bidding but the final contract was normal.

South ducked the club lead on general principles. Sometimes your opponents shift to something you like better, but West continued with the jack. South was on lead and promptly played his nine of diamonds.

West covered with the jack and South played low from dummy. Since diamonds broke 3-2, South wound up with an overtrick at his game contract.

"Horseshoes" mumbled West. "If you had gone after hearts as you should have, you would have gone down. Suppose diamonds hadn't broken nicely for you?"

"I might still have made the hand," replied South. "I would have led a high diamond after getting in with my last good club and discarded a heart on dummy's second high diamond. Then I would have tried the spade finesse. If East had started with either the singleton or doubleton spade to the king, I would have still made my contract. My play had to be the best percentage."

South was right. The alternate line of play would be to win the first diamond and take the spade finesse. This would produce nine tricks any time East held the king of spades or if spades broke 3-3. This represented a 68 per cent chance.

By a coincidence, the chance that a suit will break 3-2 is also 68 per cent. But the diamond play allowed additional chance that one spade lead from dummy might produce three spade tricks. That isn't much of a chance but it is better than nothing and the winning bridge player should always give the player the best chance. He won't always be right, but he will be right often enough to win.

Today's Word

By ROBERT FYNB and ERNEST PETERSAK

raffish (RAF-ish) disreputable; vulgar; disgraceful. His unwarrented, raffish behavior at the dance spoiled the fun for most of the guests. Sometimes the wrong type of clothing, he said, can make a simple housewife look like a raffish woman. We were shocked when we heard Tom's raffish ideas regarding teen-age morality.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

IT TAKES TWO: (Q.) I like this boy very much. But he's two years younger than I am and two inches shorter than I am. What do you propose I do?—C. in Bangor, Maine.

(A.) If you really like the boy and he really likes you, forget both the years and the inches.

DANCE DISCORD: (Q.) Recently, while I was at a dance, a friend of mine asked if I would go with him to get a cold drink. I was tired from the dancing, and I knew the boy very well, so I said yes.

We were gone 20 minutes. When we returned, my mother was there. She was furious. She says she'll never let me go to a dance again.

I'm 15 and can handle myself. In fact, I can handle a boy if I ever need to. How can I get my mother to realize this? This was the first time I ever left a dance. My mother thinks I've committed a crime. I don't think I have. This boy and I did nothing wrong, and I have nothing to be ashamed of.

I want my mother's TRUST back again. More than anything else in the world.—A Very Sad Daughter in Washington, D. C.

(A.) You do not say so, but I gather you had an agreement with your parents not to leave dances. If this is correct, then you broke the agreement.

Your "crime," in your mother's eyes, is not that you had an innocent soft drink with a perfectly nice boy but that you violated a rule designed to protect your safety under all circumstances.

Ardent boy friends are not the only dangers of a big-city night.

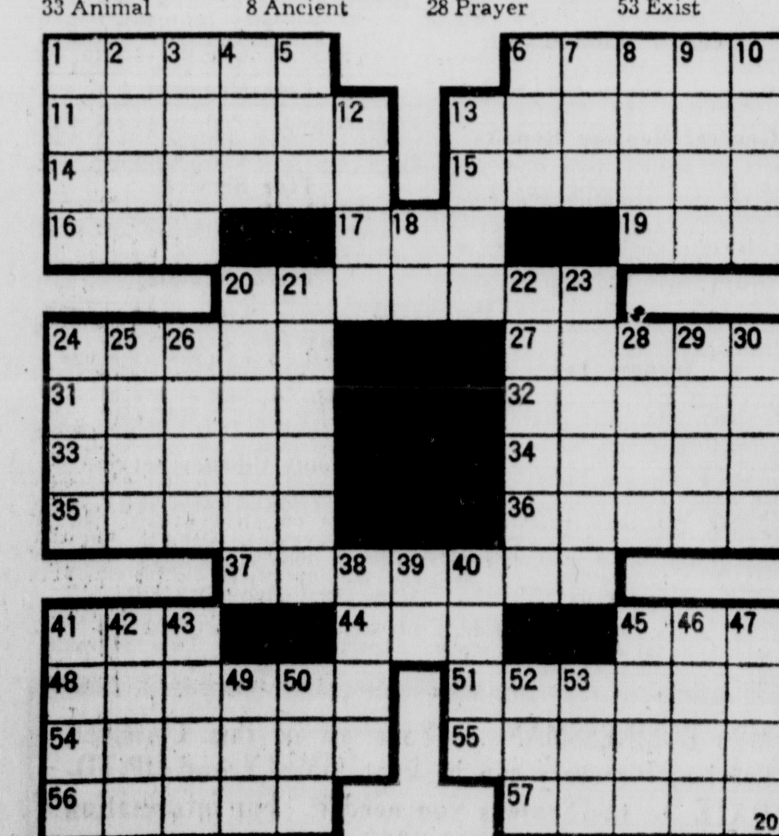

If it is true that you broke a rule, then your remedy is to go to your parents, tell them you made a mistake, that this was the first time, that there won't be another time, and ask their forgiveness.

Maybe, after things settle back down, you can arrange a plan for leaving dances when it is really necessary. You might agree to call your mother or father beforehand and let them know where you are going, for how long, and with whom.

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Many Have Their Ups, Downs

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Geographic Society specials and "60 Minutes," like situation comedies and westerns, have their ups and downs. But since both CBS shows are thoughtfully and intelligently put together, they make pretty good viewing even on nights when they are a little off pace.

The National Geographic show suffered primarily because it tackled a subject impossible to handle in an hour—the entire continent of Australia.

The program consisted principally of film shot by some bold adventurers traveling by car across the vast "out-back," rugged, sparsely-inhabited desert. Most interesting portions showed the lonely life on a cattle ranch 150 miles from the nearest town. The owner's children get their education by two-way radio and a distant doctor prescribed medicine by microphone after hearing the symptoms.

There was not, apparently, enough significant film made by the expedition to fill the hour, so some other material was shot to pad it out. Thus there was scanty, tantalizing footage showing the primitive Aborigines, a fascinating subject to explore. There was pure filler of horse races, rugby matches, beer drinkers and sheep shearing. We only had one brief look at a koala, and not a glimpse of a kangaroo.

Meanwhile, NBC's long-sought answer to the CBS series, will come along this spring, a science series with Hugh Downs as reporter-narrator. The first will show the first inhabitants of America and Downs has been traveling widely getting material for it.

Disturbing Inspection

"60 Minutes" kicked off its bi-weekly show with a disturbing inspection of some Arkansas families, who are poverty-stricken and without enough to eat.

The families were being studied by a presidential commission concerned with poverty and the welfare system. One man, a $60-a-week tractor operator with a big family was unable to get steady work and unable to get welfare help because he was "able bodied." Another very sick man and his ailing wife had 10 children—and welfare payments were woefully inadequate for their needs.

Mike Wallace went to Germany for his interview with a 23-year-old radical, Daniel Cohn-Bendit, a leader in last May's student insurrection in Paris.

Cohn-Bendit smilingly expounded his aim to overthrow all traditional governments, de-on to explore the boy-meets-girl story "the structure of capitalist societies"—including Russian hours of the nation's snow spots.

There was also a look at the billion-dollar ski boom. Commentator Heywood Hale Brown bought himself more than $600 worth of basic skis, bindings, thermal underwear and stretch pants to demonstrate where it begins and the feature moved to explore the boy-meets-girl story "the structure of capitalist societies"—including Russian hours of the nation's snow spots.
